Gap Decreased Between U.S., British Policies

Two Countries "Close Together" On Orient, Middle East Plans

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP).—Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain and State Secretary Acheson reported today that Britain and the United States are close together on plans for dealing with pressing problems in the Orient and the Middle East.

The top diplomatic officials disclosed this in a guardedly-worded joint statement after a conference. Their meeting marked the start of an attempt to bring the two governments together on a common policy toward Communist China and on other urgent political issues.

The initial session lasted nearly three hours.

Acheson and Bevin also took up the current effort led by the United Nations to work out a lasting Palestine settlement and to develop the economy of Middle-Eastern countries.

FIRST OF SERIES

The meeting was the first of a series of closed-door conferences on political issues, with particular emphasis on the situation resulting from the Communist sweep in China.

Also up for discussion and a likely decision is the question whether to go ahead on a peace treaty with Japan, with Soviet Russia excluded if need be.

Bevin was represented in advance as contending there should be no further delay in the two-year deadlock resulting from Russia's demand that the Allied Big Powers alone should dictate the treaty. The United States wants Canada and smaller countries which actively fought Japan to have a part in the peace conference.

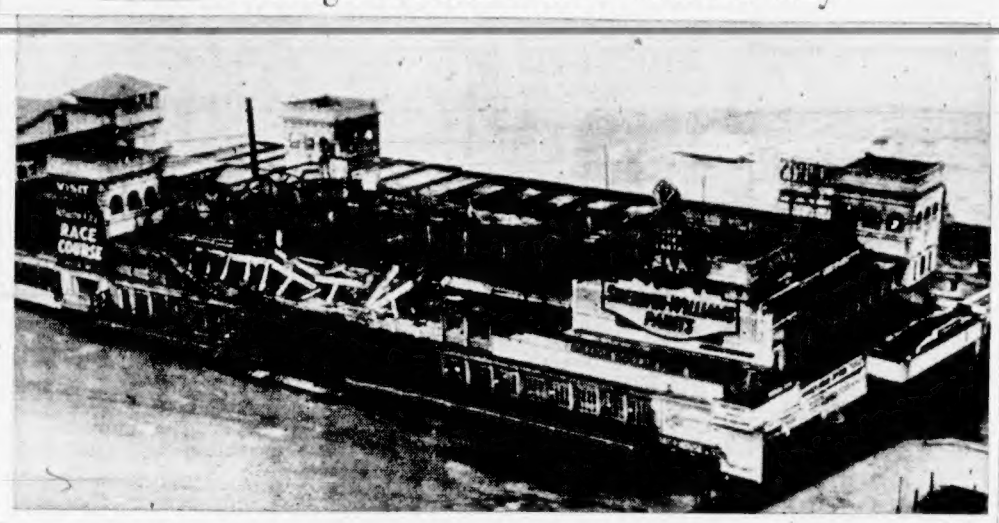
MEET SATURDAY

The survey of cold-war political problems followed the close yesterday of five-day talks on Britain's dollar crisis. Ahead for both Acheson and Bevin are Saturday's meeting to organize a permanent council for the North Atlantic Pact, and the opening next week in New York of the U.N. General Assembly.

LONDON, Sept. 13 (Reuters).—Timing of recognition of the Chinese Communist regime is expected to be one of the important policy decisions to be taken by Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain and State Secretary Acheson of the United States before Saturday.

Diplomatic observers in London now believe the Chinese Communists may force the issue of recognition on the rest of the world within the next few weeks.

Fire Damages Famous Pier in Atlantic City



AP Wirephoto.

This is how the huge ballroom of the Million Dollar Pier in Atlantic City, N.J., looked after a pre-dawn fire heavily damaged the structure yesterday. No one was hurt in the general-alarm blaze. A low tide enabled firemen to rescue a caretaker and two members of his family caught at the outer end of the pier, which had been closed for the Winter on Labor Day. Police and fire officials said they had begun an investigation into the possibility of arson in the $250,000 fire.

Russia Accused Of Threatening Balkans' Peace

Leaders in Yugoslavia Charge Moscow Attempts Dictation

BELGRADE, Sept. 13 (INS).—Yugoslav leaders for the first time accused Russia of endangering peace in the Balkans tonight and charged that Moscow tried to dictate "every step" of Yugoslav foreign policy.

In the worsening struggle between Belgrade and the Moscow-led Cominform the Yugoslav Government also took these steps:

1. It rejected flatly the recent Polish note accusing Yugoslavia of espionage and destruction of the 1946 Mutual Aid Pact.

2. It put on trial nine persons charged with being anti-Tito fifth columnists.

Moshe Pijade, vice president of the Yugoslav Presidium, declared in the Communist organ Borba that Yugoslavia would welcome the raising of the question of the Greek civil war at the United Nations General Assembly beginning September 20 in New York.

MOSCOW "LYING"

The veteran Communist leader declared Moscow was lying in saying Yugoslavia plotted with Greece to divide Albania.

Pijade charged that the Cominform planned the "liquidation" of the Greek guerrilla war for ten months, then tried to camouflage its action by asserting Yugoslavia betrayed the rebels.

Deputy Foreign Minister Ales Bebler declared Russia once demanded that every step of Yugoslavia's foreign policy — "however slight"—should have previous Soviet sanction.

NOT YET TIME

"The time has not come yet," he wrote in the Communist Review, organ of the party's central committee, "to tell all that has happened in the political sphere between Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union."

Bebler did charge Russia in these words:

"The Soviet Government took steps in foreign policy which affected Yugoslavia, not only without consulting the Yugoslav Government but without notifying it of its intention to take this or that step."

"One example was Soviet acceptance at the 1946 Foreign Ministers' conference of a French proposal for the demarcation line between Yugoslavia and Italy.

"The Soviet delegation acted without breathing a word about its intention to the Yugoslav delegation which was present and in daily touch with the Soviet delegation."

TONE INSULTING

A Yugoslav Foreign Office spokesman said the Polish note of last Thursday was returned to Warsaw without a reply because of "its insulting tone and entirely fabricated inventions."

Western diplomats speculated the Polish note was aimed at building up a situation whereby Poland could break diplomatic relations with Yugoslavia.

LONDON, Sept. 13 (INS). — A Moscow radio broadcast said today that guerrillas operating inside Yugoslavia have executed several "Tito criminals" in Slovenia.

The Russian broadcast recorded by the Soviet Monitor in London quoted Nova Borba, newspaper of a Yugoslav emigrant group in Czecho-Slovakia.

STRUGGLE GROWING

The organ of the anti-Tito group was quoted as saying that an armed struggle by guerrillas against the Yugoslav regime which broke with the Cominform is growing.

"Guerrilla units," he said, "have appeared in many parts of Yugoslavia."

No official information of the report was available immediately in London or Belgrade.

Most Western officials have ruled out the possibility of direct Cominform military attack on Tito. Fomenting of guerrilla warfare has been expected due to the Cominform appeals for a Yugoslav civil war.

Ask Europe To Devalue Currency

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP).—Top leaders of the World Bank and Monetary Fund joined today in urging European countries to devalue their currencies as a means of hastening their economic comebacks.

This advice was given to nearly 350 foreign delegates, including a score of Finance Ministers, who gathered at the annual meeting of the multi-million-dollar international lending agency.

Eugene Black, American president of the 48-member World Bank, bluntly told the session: "I do not underestimate either the complexities or the far-reaching consequences of such action, but I fail to see how it can be avoided."

Camille Gutt, the Belgian financier who heads the World Monetary Fund, said that present money rates are so far out of line that they are seriously handicapping the sale of European products in the world dollar markets.

The pound sterling, for example, now is valued at about $4.03. The argument in favor of cutting this figure is that a dollar would buy more British goods and hence would make it easier for Britain to compete in dollar markets.

Health Insurance To Be Postponed

OTTAWA, Sept. 13 (CP).—An overall national health insurance plan will not be placed before the forthcoming session of Parliament.

A Health Department source indicated today it likely will be some time before the Government and the country, for that matter, will be prepared for an all-inclusive health insurance plan such as exists in Britain.

However, the subject will be a big topic for discussion during the session which opens Thursday. M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, has stated that his party will keep the matter before the eyes of the Government and the public. In a recent interview he said:

"We intend to keep before the House the promises made by Liberal candidates in respect to old-age pensions, national health insurance, and other social security measures which we have urged for years and which Liberal candidates wholeheartedly endorsed during the election campaign.

"Now comes the time for the fulfillment of their promises and we shall see to it that they are not forgotten."

SEVERAL REASONS

Several reasons are given in Government circles for not going ahead with health insurance at this time, although such a program is part of the platform of the Liberal Party, which won an overwhelming victory in the June 27 general election.

The reasons include the lack of hospital accommodation; the lack of trained staff; the lack of a taxation agreement with the two richest provinces — Ontario and Quebec — and the fact that the national health program instituted last year has not yet been fully carried out.

Under the program, the Federal Government made $30,000,000 available to provinces for what Health Minister Martin has described as the "starting point in our national health plan."

A total of $17,099,330 has so far been allocated to the various provinces to help them with hospital construction, health insurance surveys, the training of personnel and for the treatment of such things as cancer, tuberculosis and venereal diseases.

The money is allocated to the provinces after they have had specific projects approved by the Health Department. Much of the money allocated has not yet been spent and there is no indication the Government plans at the coming session to ask Parliament for a new national health program vote.

It is not known when all of the provinces will have completed their health surveys, but in the meantime, the Health Department has a special staff under Dr. F. W. Jackson continually studying the problems that would arise with the application of health insurance in Canada.

John Lewis Threatens Operators

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (INS).—John L. Lewis today issued a veiled threat to close down all coal mines whose operators have been withholding payments to the United Mine Workers' welfare fund.

The miners' boss made the threat in an angrily-worded letter to James D. Francis, president of the Island Creek Coal Company of Huntington, W.Va., whom he accused of defaulting on payments since July 1.

In his bristling language, Lewis gave Francis until Wednesday to answer his blunt question of "Will you or will you not remit?"

Lewis declared that the "daily default" by Francis companies and others associated with him "becomes increasingly important to the dependent women of the industry, and the blind, the lame and the halt, who are its tragic victims."

DELIVERS THREAT

Then the bushy-browed U.M.W. chief delivered his threat in this sentence:

"A continuation of your policy of default and smash may cause reactions deterrent to the constructive progress of the industry."

Some operators have been withholding the 20-cent-a-ton royalty payments to the welfare fund on grounds that no contract now exists with the U.M.W.

The issue between Lewis and Francis, considered the leader of the Southern operators, is expected to come to a head Wednesday at Bluefield, W.Va., when the U.M.W. and the Southern Coal Producers' Association resume contract negotiations.

The union leader contended that the action of Francis and other operators was "bleeding it (the fund) white" and termed the withholding of payments a "mad and vengeful attack on the existence of the fund."

No Increase Anticipated In Milk Prices at Once

City Council yesterday rejected an application for a reduction in trades licence fees by Victoria milk distributors, but the rejection likely will not have an immediate effect on milk prices.

In their application, the milk distributors said it would be necessary to apply for an increase in the price of milk unless the licence was reduced.

But they were apparently unanimous in the opinion late yesterday that milk prices would remain steady at 19 cents-a-quart "at least for the present," despite council's stand.

Informed of the council's decision, local distributors said they would await official word of the decision before deciding a course of action.

When the question was placed before the council yesterday, an official reported the increase for wholesale-retail establishments in the city had been from $110 to $300.

Ald. Edward Williams remarked that it would be interesting to know how many cents increase would be required and how many bottles of milk would have to be sold to make up the extra $190 in fees.

One outspoken association member remarked that complaints against current trades licence fees here "were almost automatic!"

He pointed out that if prices went too high, consumption would drop "and the distributor would be no further ahead."

Meanwhile, council will file the application for reduction in fees and will send the same reply as has been sent on similar applications from other groups protesting the increase. Council's stock answer has been that nothing can be done to reduce the fees.

Brush Removal To Cost $1,000

Brush along Dallas Road in the Clover Point area will be removed at a cost of $1,000—if the parks department can find the money.

The parks committee recommended the work be done yesterday with money to be provided by the finance committee.

Alderman Edward Williams, finance committee chairman, rejected the request, pointing out it would have to come from the contingency fund, which should be kept for emergencies. The parks committee had obtained a big budget this year, he said, and should find the money in the parks department.

The council agreed.

Before deciding what to do with requests for removing trees and brush from Holland Point, near the end of Government Street, aldermen decided they would visit the area.

Would Enforce Signing Pledges

An application from the Greater Victoria Traffic Safety Council which would require all drivers in Victoria to sign a safety pledge and display safety stickers was referred to the city solicitor by the City Council yesterday.

Members of the council wondered if the city had power to enforce any such a by-law.

BULLETINS

Plans Visit

OTTAWA, Sept. 13 (CP).—Ernest Bevin, United Kingdom foreign secretary, likely will visit Ottawa early next month, External Affairs Minister Pearson said today.

Slash Fire

A 200-acre slash fire at Kapoor, understood to be under control and authorized by permit, drew the attention of the U.S. Coast Guard at Port Angeles and many local residents. The northern sky was a bright red.

Inner Harbor To Be Cleaned

Expenditure of $1,000 for cleaning up and improving Victoria's Inner Harbor was approved by the City Council yesterday.

The money was taken from the city's contingency fund.

Work includes the removal of four old piles in the harbor, cleaning up of debris and placing of buoys for yacht moorings.

Soviet Zone of Germany Up to Hitler's Standard

LEIPZIG, Germany, Sept. 13 (AP).—Adolf Hitler would admire the East Zone of Germany today.

Police state? Just as tough, just as harsh and just as relentless as it was at Hitler's worst.

Concentration camps? The Russians don't have as many, but they are working toward it. There are huge camps at Bautzen, Buchenwald and elsewhere.

Fear? It lay all over Germany like a thick fog during the Nazi era. It is the same in the East Zone today, with "Siberia" often substituted for Buchenwald.

The Nazis used to tell the people that they were building a better Germany and that it was everyone's duty to help.

SAME THING

The Russians say the same thing but they add the tag line that the Soviet Union is East Germany's big brother, friend, counselor and guide.

A visitor to the East is made dizzy by propaganda flags, placards, signs and catchwords.

One big theme is "Russia and Germany hand in hand toward the future."

A Western foreigner, who displays friendliness, can hear a lot in the East Zone today. It's all corner-of-the-mouth conversation, with frequent pauses for safety.

A waiter sidled up to a table the other night and quickly appraised the faces.

"You are American, yes?" he smiled. "I thought so. You know Forty-two Street, New York? I used to be a sailor. That is where we docked. What a wonderful country."

With the soup he got confidential.

"I am going to run away to the West soon. I can't stand it here. The Russians. They are worse than the Nazis. Believe me."

Rare Operation Saves Life of Local Man

—Colonist Photo.

Picture of a man with a lot of eating to catch up on is happy convalescent Roy Watson, 28, shown above with between-meals snack. After spending the last seven months on a liquid diet, "and not much of that," he recovered power to eat after a "miracle" operation by local surgeons that saved him from almost certain death. The Gordon Head Camp resident, father of two children, had been ailing since his army service in Italy, he says. Starting January 3, this year, he made three trips to the operating table, as surgeons sought to restore him to health. Last operation at St. Joseph's Hospital here, was a rare one, said to have given him a new channel for food, has started him gaining weight at rate of two ounces a day. Mother, left, and wife, with hungry patient in picture, were told before the operation that the ailing man had "a slight chance," they state. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Watson, 857 Pandora Avenue. Reports say operation may be unique. Local surgeons modestly called it "interesting."

By-Election Not Likely

Mayor Percy George said last night the death of Ald. John Baxter would not likely necessitate a by-election.

"Because of the time of the year, and the expense involved, the City Council will probably decide to wait until December to fill the vacancy.

B.C. Development Plans' Result in Fraud Charge

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 13 (AP).—A 69-year-old Minneapolis man who, authorities said, used the name of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt in his operations in Canada and the United States, was named today in an indictment charging mail fraud and issuance of fraudulent stocks.

Howard Gelb, assistant United States District Attorney, identified the man as Ingwald S. Steensland.

LOST $100,000

Gelb said investors in Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, North and South Dakota and some Canadian provinces, lost more than $100,000.

A bench warrant was served on Steensland today. He was held under $2,000 bond.

Gelb gave this account of Steensland's operations:

The Minneapolis man operated a company under the name of the Prince Rupert Development Company which, Steensland claimed, was organized under a Canadian Secret-Corporations Act.

Steensland represented that after President Roosevelt in 1940 negotiated delivery of 50 over-age destroyers to Britain, the wartime Prime Minister, Winston Churchill, wanted to do "something big" for the President. And the President, in turn, wanted to do a favor for a friend in Chicago, closely associated with Steensland's development firm.

So Churchill and the King, Steensland went on, got Parliament to exert pressure on the British Columbia Government to convey title to a vast tract of land, rich in timber and coal, to the syndicate Steensland represented.

Steensland also represented that the syndicate planned to borrow $60,000,000 from the International Bank for reconstruction and development work, and many investors were promised lucrative jobs, paying up to $15,000 a year.

The mysterious man in Chicago was represented as a "real power" in the White House.

Ald. John Baxter Dies At 56 Following Stroke

John Baxter, soldier, sportsman, secretary to eight of Victoria's mayors, and one of the city's most fearless and outspoken aldermen, died last night in hospital.

The alderman, in poor health since the last December elections, passed away at St. Joseph's Hospital at 9:20 p.m., the result of a cerebral hemorrhage. He was 56.

Alderman Baxter became a member of the city staff as mayor's secretary in 1922 and in addition later was made secretary to committees of the City Council.

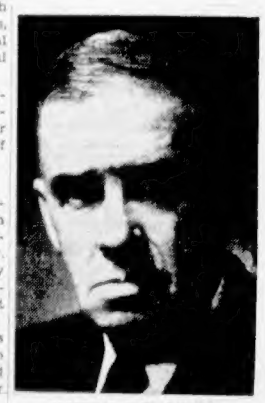
NEWCOMER TO COUNCIL

He was the fourth of five aldermen elected to the City Council in last year's election, the lone newcomer to Victoria's governing body.

Mayor Percy George, deeply shocked at learning of his colleague's passing, had one regret more predominant than others:

"I am very sorry that John has not been given the opportunity to really serve the people who elected him. He was taken ill shortly after the elections.

"I had known Ald. Baxter since 1915 when we became acquainted at the Willows while serving in the army. From that time on we have been friends.



ALDERMAN JOHN BAXTER

"For the past 18 years, we have been closely associated, being members of the same public-speaking class. He was a fearless and outspoken speaker," concluded the mayor.

Ald. Duncan D. McTavish, in paying tribute to a close friend and fellow alderman, was all but over-

International Regime Proposed For Two Zones in Jerusalem

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Sept. 13 (AP).—The United Nations Palestine Conciliation Commission today proposed creation of a two-zone international regime in Jerusalem with a United Nations commissioner as supreme authority.

The commission's blueprint recommended that the existing zones, administered by Israel and Trans-Jordan, be retained and that the two administrations each be given a large measure of local self-government.

The final authority, however, would rest in a central government which would consist of a commissioner, a 14-member general council, an international tribunal and a mixed tribunal.

The plan goes before the 59-country General Assembly, opening in New York next Tuesday.

FIGHT EXPECTED

There was no immediate reaction from either Israeli or Arabs representatives, but the proposal is expected to arouse a stormy fight in the Assembly.

It had been hoped here that the Commission would find a compromise formula that would satisfy all parties. This includes the Vatican, which has been exerting strong influence for establishment of an international regime.

This is the second United Nations plan for an international regime in Jerusalem. The Trusteeship Council prepared a long, detailed plan early in 1948 to be fitted into the Palestine partition plan. The trusteeship plan was dropped when it became apparent that the United Nations was unable to implement the partition.

Moscow Men At Meeting, Witness Says

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP).—A "top layer" meeting of Communist officials, including three representatives from Moscow, was held recently at Beacon, N.Y., to discuss the "party line," senators have been informed.

The informant was identified by the Senate judiciary sub-committee on immigration as Maurice Malkin, Brooklyn, N.Y., a self-acknowledged former Communist official in the United States. The committee released tonight roughly one-third of his testimony which had been given behind closed doors last week.

Malkin, who said he is employed "on and off" by the Immigration and Naturalization Service as "an expert witness" in deportation hearings, told the committee the Communist party and Moscow now are "concentrating a great deal on the United Nations."

He also reeled off the names of a number of persons whom he called Communists or fellow-travelers.

Malkin said he does not know the names of the three "agents of the Comintern" who, he said, attended the Beacon meeting "just a few weeks ago."

Lottery Case Dismissed; Delay Prizes

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13 (CP).—Charges of conducting a lottery against four officials of the West Point Grey Community Association were dismissed by Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson in police court today.

But association president, R. F. Matheson, one of those charged, says holders of winning tickets in the draw may have to wait a while before they get their prizes. The first prize was a 1949 model automobile.

The magistrate found the accused men and other citizens "had been working on the lottery scheme for months," that the prizes were openly displayed and that tickets were sold and purchased on the public streets.

"All this was done under the eyes of police officers," he said. "At the last moment, when hundreds of citizens had bought tickets and the draw was actually made, the police stepped in."

The magistrate said he was not seeking to lay down any rules in the case of lotteries, and that his findings were not to be taken as criticism of the police.

Defence counsel said the club is not entirely cleared. "The same charge could be laid by the Attorney-General's Department. So far we have had only a preliminary hearing on the charges. We have not been tried."

Owner Wins Licence Case

GODERICH, Ont., Sept. 13 (CP).—R. E. K. Pemberton, professor of classics at the University of Western Ontario, won a radio licence case here today in the first charge of its kind heard in a district court.

Inspector Robert Parkin-McBride of the Transport Department radio division charged Prof. Pemberton with operating a radio receiving set without a licence at his Summer home at nearby Bayfield.

Prof. Pemberton pleaded not guilty on the grounds that he had a London-bought licence for the radio.

Dismissing the charge, Magistrate D. E. Holmes ruled it had not been proven that operation of a licensed radio was limited to one specific dwelling, or place.

Tourist Trade Declared Most Fruitful

HULL, Que., Sept. 13 (CP).—Prime Minister St. Laurent today said Canada wants a tourist industry which will lead to peace between nations.

Mr. St. Laurent spoke in French before the annual convention of the Quebec Chamber of Commerce. While all forms of external trade were extremely important to Canada, none was more fruitful than the kind of trade the tourist industry represented.

He chided Canadians for thinking of the country's tourist industry in terms of money alone. Canada had great need of U.S. dollars but had still greater need of the United States' friendship and understanding, he said.

Nevertheless the monetary value of the tourist industry was important. It brought in $270,000,000 from the United States last year, "making the industry one of the most important sources of American dollars."

"This year," Mr. St. Laurent said, "it is expected that the amount will be about 10 per cent higher."

As a background for the settlement of problems between the two countries, Canada-United States friendship was of "inestimable value."

Mr. St. Laurent departed from his prepared text briefly to say that the dollar conferences just concluded in Washington had provided reason to believe that a solution would be found to the currency difficulties confronting Canada.

Killed in Cave-In

McALESTER, Okla., Sept. 13 (AP).—One man was believed killed and four others hurt tonight in a cave-in at the Lone Star Steel Company's Carbon Mine No. 5 east of McAlester.

Toronto Detectives Find Part of $30,000 B.C. Loot

TORONTO, Sept. 13 (CP).—Seven diamonds and three emeralds, part of the $30,000 loot taken from the country estate of C. S. Glaspie, wealthy British Columbia lumberman, several weeks ago, were recovered by detectives today.

The gems, valued at more than $6,000, were found by detectives in a downtown safety deposit box which police said was rented by Louis Molnar, alias Ward. Molnar has been identified by police as the ringleader of a gang of West Coast jewel thieves.

Molnar was arrested during the week-end and charged with seven counts of theft in connection with British Columbia robberies.

Police said they believe Molnar has cached part of the loot in other strong boxes throughout the city. But he refuses to discuss the find.

Synod Seeks Royal Commission To Investigate Liquor Traffic

HALIFAX, Sept. 13 (CP). — The Church of England in Canada today called for a Royal Commission to make a comprehensive investigation of Canada's liquor traffic.

The resolution was one of several adopted by the Church's 17th General Synod during consideration of a wide range of moral and social issues. All these arose during debate on the report of the council for social services.

Rt. Rev. R. J. Renison, Bishop of Moosonee, termed the Synod's progress today "one of the most realistic attitudes toward these problems" ever taken by the church.

Briefly, these are among other decisions:

1. That Provincial Governments name committees of competent persons to make pre-screening examinations of films purporting to offer sex education.

2. Opposition to any immediate steps to nationalize the Dominion's liquor sales.

OPPOSES GAMBLING

3. Reaffirmation of the Church's stand against the use of gambling practices to raise money for any church purpose.

4. An appeal to the Federal Government to repeal sections of the criminal code legalizing gambling and lotteries for so-called charitable purposes.

5. Opposition to any extension of gambling privileges by amendment to Federal laws.

The Synod also considered the effectiveness of the Lord's Day Act and urged the Federal Government "to have regard for the long-range dangers to our society" which would result from continued violations or indifference.

The Church also said it was aware of nation-wide agitation for slackening of restrictions on "Sunday trading" and partly blamed this agitation on "organized financial interests." This agitation, the Church said, extended to "commercialized sports and public entertainments at which fees are charged."

Egg Prices Up

TORONTO, Sept. 13 (CP). — Toronto housewives paid from 75 to 95 cents a dozen for Grade A eggs today, as wholesale prices took another upsurge. Wholesale prices varied 79 to 85 cents a dozen.

Drought Hits U.K. Rations

LONDON, Sept. 13 (Reuters).—A bonus in Britain's meat ration and cuts in milk supplies—both due to a drought—were announced by the Ministry of Food tonight.

From next week, ordinary consumers will be entitled to only two pints of milk a week. The average milk ration in Britain has been three pints a week, but this was cut to two and a half pints last Sunday.

The shortage is due to lack of rain [illegible] reduction of grass and other cattle feed.

For the same reason, farmers have brought forward cattle for slaughter much earlier than usual, causing a congestion in cold storage plants. To relieve this pressure, Britons will get a bonus of sixpence (10 cents) worth of meat at the end of this month.

This represents an increase of nearly 50 per cent on one week's ration.

Fatally Burned

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK, Wyo., Sept. 13 (AP).—Karen Anderson, 4½, of Grand Coulee Dam, Wash., was burned fatally in a hot-water pool in Yellowstone Park today. The girl pulled away from her mother, Mrs. Theodore Anderson, and ran to the pool. She fell in and went under the surface.

Education Given Credit For Drop in Fire Losses

By The Canadian Press

Educational campaigns and improved fire-fighting methods have reduced forest fire damage in most provinces, a Canadian Press survey shows.

British Columbia reported the worst fire damage in a number of years but most other provinces had fewer fires. Government officials attributed the reduction to intensive press and radio campaigns, and improved fire-fighting facilities.

LEAGUE MEMBERS

In Nova Scotia, 100,000 school children are members of the Green Forests League, take lectures in fire prevention, publish a magazine and wear identifying buttons. In each forest section of Ontario a Lands and Forests Department employee arranges fire prevention lectures, movies and radio talks. The Alberta Government is conducting a four-week press and radio campaign to educate the public to the danger of dry forests.

In Ontario up to late August there had been 1,369 forest fires this year compared with 2,036 in 1948.

USE PARACHUTISTS

Saskatchewan last year spent $25,000 fighting forest fires that burned through 250,000 acres. Fire-fighting parachutists stationed at Lac la Ronge, Sask., were believed to be the first in Canada.

Ontario fire fighters are becoming increasingly mechanized and air-minded. Besides pump trucks and bulldozers Ontario fire fighters use six Beaver aircraft, equipped with ground-to-air and ground-to-ground radio.

Most provincial officials reported success with the policy of shutting off forest areas when fire-hazard ratings reached a dangerous level. The number of fires on private lands were considerably higher than on Crown land where fire protection measures are more extensive.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (CP).—The Canadian dollar was up 1-16 of a cent at a discount of 4⅜ per cent of United States funds in closing Foreign Exchange dealings. The pound sterling was up 1-16 of a cent at $4.02⅞.

BEXLEY, Kent, England (CP).—Among targets of Bexley hooligans was the 13th century St. Michael's Church, where £60 ($240) damage was done.

Amazing New RCA Victor Record Playing System Now Brings You

Better music at less cost

FIRST RECORD AND PLAYER DESIGNED TO WORK TOGETHER
. . . True "Live-talent" Tone Quality

● TODAY at your RCA Victor dealer's you can see a completely new system of recorded music. It is not just a new size of record or a new type of player, but an entirely new kind of musical enjoyment . . . the climax of ten years of RCA Victor research and development.

This research aimed at a new standard for recorded music by creating for the first time a record and player to work together:

1. It had to sound better than any heard before.
2. The instrument was to load more easily, add to change records more quickly, more quietly and more dependably than any ever built.
3. The new record had to carry as much music as a conventional 12 inch record. All records for all types of music had to be the same size.
4. BOTH the record and the instrument were to fit modern living by being at once smaller and lighter.
5. It must do all this . . . and cost less.

The result is here, for you to see TODAY! The world's simplest, fastest changer. And such glorious TONE . . . so clear, so lifelike, so completely free of distortion!

But you must see and hear it for yourself. For in the new 45 rpm Victrola system, RCA Victor sincerely believes that a completely new standard of value and performance has been established . . . a standard unmatched by any other record or record player available to the public. Give yourself a demonstration today!

See it Today! Hear it Today!

LEFT: Quickly and easily connected to any radio or radio-phonograph.
The RCA Victor 9-JY, with the world's fastest automatic changer, "plugs in" and plays the new 45 rpm records through any radio. What's more, it can be attached to your present radio-phonograph through a simple installed, inexpensive switch that enables you to enjoy both 78 rpm and 45 rpm records. Just press one button and it plays for more than 40 minutes of recorded music. $29.95

RIGHT: A complete RCA Victor automatic phonograph less than ten inches square!
Take it . . . use it . . . anywhere in the house . . . here's the music you want — when you want it — where you want it. Unbelievable — such full tone and volume from a set so small. Plays more than 40 minutes with one touch of a button. Model 9-EY-5. $54.95

BELOW: Here's the new 45 rpm System in a handsome traditional console!
This instrument combines a powerful long and short wave radio with the new RCA Victor System of recorded music. At a touch, player rides smoothly from cabinet, Chinese Chippendale in design. Storage for 216 singles or 24 albums. In rich walnut finish. Hear the RCA Victor 9-W-91. $269.00

COUNTRY AND WESTERN — Brass Green
CLASSICAL — Ruby Red
POPULAR — Black
INTERNATIONAL — Sky Blue
NEW 45 rpm RECORDS ARE UNBREAKABLE
Made of vinyl plastic, they also last up to 10 times longer than ordinary records, and there's a different colour for every type of music.
FRENCH CANADIAN — Cerise
POPULAR CLASSICAL — Midnight Blue
CHILDREN'S — Lemon Drop Yellow

The secret of "Live-talent" quality

As the diagram shows, all records have a "quality zone" where the music is undistorted. But toward the center of conventional records is a "distortion zone" where the music loses clarity and brilliance. On the new Victrola 45 rpm recordings, for the first time in history, ALL the music grooves are in the distortion-free "quality zone". And, with the new non-breakable vinyl plastic records, there is virtually no surface noise!

Playing surfaces can't touch!

Raised label surfaces on the new 45 rpm records act as "surface savers" shoulders so music grooves cannot slide across each other. They stay apart as you stack them, as you hold them, as they stand in your bookcase shelf.

Why they cost less . . .

These smaller records cost less, despite their finer quality, because of economies in manufacture and packaging. You get non-breakable vinyl plastic for less than most standard shellacs . . . only 75¢ for popular . . . only $1.25 for Red Seal!

World's fastest changer!

Acts silently with trigger-action speed. Has far fewer parts than conventional changer . . . works from within the center spindle. No more changer-damaged records. You can load up to 8 records with one hand . . . just press one button to play more than 40 minutes!

An end to record storage problems!

All the new 45 rpm records—classical and popular — are the same, easy-to-handle size. All fit the same changer, play in any 'mixture' or sequence of classicals and pops you choose. They can be placed in regular bookshelves, desk drawers or between bookends. 18 albums or nearly 150 single records in the foot!

If you own a conventional player

you can still enjoy a full selection of standard 78 rpm recordings. All RCA Victor releases on the new 45 rpm records will also be available on the standard 10- and 12-inch discs.

Agrees Through Streets in City Difficult to Spot, Reduces Fine

Ascertaining which are through streets in Victoria is not always very easy, Magistrate H. C. Hall declared in a judgment on a dangerous driving charge in city police court yesterday.

The magistrate levied a fine in the case and not the usual fine and suspension because of this fact.

The accident in the case occurred at the intersection of Cook Street and Princess Avenue. Although Cook Street is considered a main thoroughfare, there is no stop sign on Princess Avenue. However, on other nearby streets crossing Cook Street there are stop signs.

Defence counsel, James J. Proudfoot, also pointed out this fact during the trial.

INJURED IN FALL

A 64-year-old woman received a broken leg in a fall down a shaft in the shipping office of the Kelly Douglas warehouse, 1810 Store Street, at 10:25 a.m. yesterday.

She is Mrs. Harry Cambie, 821 Burdett Avenue, whose condition in Royal Jubilee Hospital is reported as good.

The building's sprinkler system valves were located in the shaft, which was about two feet wide. Mrs. Cambie was assisted out of the shaft by Ernest Speed, 2715 Blackwood Street.

GROWS HUGE POTATO

A large Warba potato weighing two pounds ten ounces was harvested in the garden of an Esquimalt resident recently.

The potato was dug up by Mrs. A. W. Larson, 512 Constance Avenue. Mrs. Larson gave her reason why the potato was so big—it was planted close to the sweet peas where it received a lot of water. The potatoes were planted May 24.

FROST HITS VEGETABLES

Vegetable growers in districts near Victoria are counting up losses from frost early Monday morning, according to word reaching the Provincial Department of Agriculture here.

In the Luxton-Happy Valley area, potatoes, tomatoes, squash, cucumbers and other vegetables were reported blackened.

Similar damage was reported from the Brentwood and Swan Lake district, but it seems to have missed Gordon Head.

Such early frosts are unusual for the Greater Victoria area. According to a report by the Dominion meteorological branch, the earliest frost on record was September 17 and that was 18 years ago in Esquimalt. The average date for first frost in Esquimalt is November 10.

BABY SATISFACTORY

Sandra Collins, 18-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Collins, 942 Caledonia Avenue, was in "satisfactory" condition last night at St. Joseph's Hospital, according to her physician, Dr. G. M. Paul.

The little girl was critically injured Monday afternoon when she fell 18 feet from a second-story window in an upstairs suite at the Caledonia address. She suffered a fractured skull.

Six City Men Set for Parley Of Engineers

Six Victoria men will leave this morning for the 7th annual meeting of the Municipal and Public Works Division of the British Columbia Engineering Society to be held at Harrison Hot Springs Thursday and Friday, A. S. G. Musgrave, secretary of the division, and Oak Bay engineer, said yesterday.

They are Cyril Jones, city engineer; R. D. Dawson, Saanich engineer; Ralph Purcell, assistant Oak Bay engineer; Mr. Musgrave, Edmund Fulcher, Esquimalt superintendent of works, and Russell Potter, engineer for the Fraser Valley Basin Board, who is chairman of the municipal and public works division.

TO SPEAK ON PAVING

Speakers at the meeting will be Neil McCallum, assistant chief engineer for the Department of Public Works, who will speak on "Asphalt Paving and Maintenance"; A. L. Carruthers, former deputy minister of public works, whose subject will be "Rivers and Their Control"; B. C. Bracewell, deputy minister of municipal affairs, who will speak on "Points of Interest to Engineers in the Goldenberg Report." There will be two talks on specifications for laying of water mains and sewers, Fred C. Stewart, Vancouver consulting engineer, to deal with sewers and A. W. Sneddon, assistant chief engineer for Vancouver, to talk on water mains. Cameron McKenzie, designer and structural engineer in the Public Works Department, will speak on "Prepakt Concrete Work at Stave River." Parks, boulevard, playgrounds and trees will be dealt with by S. S. Lefeaux, assistant superintendent, Board of Commissioners, Vancouver Parks Board. Building inspection will be covered by New Westminster engineer, A. S. Stewardson.

Guest speaker at the annual banquet Thursday will be R. H. Topper, treasurer of the B.C. Law Society. Delegates at the banquet will be guests of the city of New Westminster.

Man's Speedy Action at Beach Snatches Young Boy From Death

A 3½-year-old Esquimalt boy was snatched from the jaws of death just before noon yesterday by the quick action and presence of mind displayed by William Thompson, 522 Joffre Street.

The boy is Raymond Moss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Moss, 483 Constance Avenue, whose condition at St. Joseph's Hospital is reported as satisfactory.

Esquimalt Police Chief Gilbert Stancombe said Raymond was romping with a playmate on Long Beach at Saxe Point Park when he slipped from high rocks into deep water.

Thompson, who was across the bay, a considerable distance away, saw the occurrence, rushed a nearby boat into the water, and rowed over to the spot where the boy fell. He recovered the youngster who had taken in considerable water, but was still conscious, according to Chief Stancombe, who took the boy to the hospital.

"The presence of mind shown by Mr. Thompson saved the boy's life," stated Chief Stancombe.

Last night, hospital officials reported the boy had recovered from the initial shock.

Sanctions Bid for Propane Gas Plant; Fountain Traffic Plans Tabled

CITY COUNCIL NEWS

Application of the B.C. Electric Company for permission to erect a propane gas plant west of Store Street on waterfront property formerly owned by the Canadian Puget Sound Lumber Company was approved by the city council yesterday.

Construction of the plant involves closing off Wood Street, which runs parallel to Store Street, as well as the lower end of Discovery Street.

The application had previously been approved by the council and then held up pending further investigation.

GUARANTEED PRACTICE

T. Chalmers, manager of the Girls' Pipe Band complained to the City Council yesterday that the band was not being allowed to practice in Kings Road Community Centre Hall.

When City Solicitor A. J. Patton explained that the band's right to practice was guaranteed under a lease agreement for the hall with the city, he was instructed to see that the lease was fulfilled.

Mr. Chalmers pointed out the band was due to appear in the Community Chest parade and had no place to practice.

TO DECORATE CLOCK

Victoria Community Chest campaign committee will be permitted to place red feathers on the hands of the City Hall clock or on the face of the clock, provided they do not interfere with the clock's operation.

This was the decision of the City Council yesterday although some aldermen thought it was a futile effort because no one looked at the clock anyway.

Observatory Still Tops As Tourist Attraction

The Dominion Astrophysical Observatory atop Little Saanich Mountain continues to be one of Victoria's most popular tourist and educational targets this year, according to Summer statistics announced yesterday by Dr. J. A. Pearce, director.

He reported a "very heavy" run of visitors who come out each day between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. to look at the giant telescope and view astral photographs and other scientific equipment. More than 20,000 visitors were recorded at the observatory during June, July and August.

The observatory in the past has averaged about 35,000 to 40,000 visitors a year, Dr. Pearce said. Exact figures for the months were 3,200 in June, 7,820 in July and 9,800 in August.

Visitors are still arriving in strength, but the numbers have fallen below the August totals.

STAR-GAZING POPULAR

Most popular with the visitors are the special Saturday night sessions between 8 and 10 p.m. when they are invited to gaze through the observatory telescope.

Arriving by private car, taxis, limousines and buses, 675 tyro astronomers arrived in June, 1,225 in July and 1,145 in August, for the Saturday night observation period.

Although the policy of Saturday night visitors costs scientists a quarter of their observing time each Saturday, Canadian observatories, unlike those in most other parts of the world, have always encouraged the public to come out to see for themselves what their scientists do.

However, because of the astronomers' long-range observation schedules, the observatory has to turn down public requests to use the precious telescope on any other night.

TO END SESSIONS

And because Winter nights are so often cloudy and rainy, putting a premium on every available minute of clear skies, Dr. Pearce has announced that although the special public viewings will continue through September, October and November, the observatory will not be able to make the telescope available to the public any Saturday nights in December, January, February or March. Public observing will be declared open again in April.

Name Officers To Conciliate Six Disputes

Conciliation officers have been appointed for six Mainland labor disputes involving more than 700 employees, Labor Relations Board announced yesterday. They are:

W. T. McLaughlin for negotiations between Canadian Canners (Western) Ltd., Vancouver and Lulu Island plants, and United Packinghouse Workers of America, Local 350, representing 350 employees.

J. T. W. Place for negotiations between Canadian Forest Products, Ltd. (Hunting-Merritt Shingle Division) and Shingle Weavers, Local 2802, of United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, 200 employees.

Mr. Place for negotiations between Wells, Ltd., Vancouver, and 75 members of United Packinghouse Workers of America, Local 341; and for negotiations between Safeway Taxi, Ltd., Vancouver, and Taxicab, Stage and Bus Drivers' Union, Local 151, representing seven employees.

Mr. McLaughlin for negotiations between Morrison Steel & Wire Co., Ltd., Vancouver, and Marine Workers and Boilermakers' Industrial Union, Local 1, 70 employees. Mr. McLaughlin for negotiations between Market Basket, Ltd., Vancouver, and Retail Grocery and Food Clerks' Union, Local 1518, 13 employees.

Back to School Session Urged for Some Parents

Parents should go back to school—high school at any rate—and learn how to bring up their children.

This psychological certitude was pronounced firmly by Dr. R. Dreikus, noted psychiatrist and scientific writer from Chicago, during a brief stay in Victoria yesterday.

Already famous in this part of the world as the man who recommended disciplining little Rupert by dumping his porridge bowl on his head, the professor went after Rupert's parents yesterday in no uncertain fashion.

SOCIAL LIFE CHANGED

"The old method of bringing up a family doesn't work," the author of "Challenge to Parenthood," said firmly, "because our social life and environment has changed greatly during the past 25 years."

Professor Dreikus admitted that parents couldn't be compelled to learn how to bring up children, but he was certain the average parent of today had a few lessons coming to him.

"It's the only way to promote better human relations between man and wife and their children," he stated.

MORE DEMOCRACY

He was definitely against the old-time methods used to bring up children, and he thinks parents should make children shoulder more responsibility. "Instead of the strap more democratic principles should be applied," he stated in effect.

The general public is about 50 or 100 years behind the new discoveries of science, Dr. Dreikus said.

"It will take that long before new ideas penetrate college and high schools," he estimated.

Martha Logan's Swiftning COLUMN

IF EVER there was a family favourite, it's lemon pie! And today's lemon pie recipe results in a scrumptious pie that will become your family's favourite! Of course, for the flakiest, tenderest pastry, always use Swift'ning, the new kind of shortening.

Lemon Meringue Pie

(Make and bake one 8-inch shell)

1¼ cups sugar
5 tablespoons cornstarch
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups boiling water
3 egg yolks
6 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon Swift'ning

Meringue:
5 egg whites
6 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt

Combine sugar, cornstarch, salt. Stir in boiling water. Cook in double boiler or over very low heat. Stir constantly. When thick and well cooked, slowly add hot mixture to beaten egg yolks which have been combined with lemon juice and rind. Cook over low heat one minute longer, stirring constantly. Add Swift'ning, stir until melted. Cool. Fill pie shell.

Beat egg whites and salt until stiff. Slowly add sugar. Continue beating until meringue stands in peaks. Cover pie. Bake at 350°F. 10 to 15 minutes. Yield: 5-cut pie.

FREE! For your copy of the new Swift'ning Recipe Book, send name and address, one Swift'ning box top, to: Martha Logan, Dept. GA 121, Swift Canadian Co., Limited, Toronto 9, Ontario.

Washington Conference Marks End of an Era

It is ironic that wars have to be paid for and that nobody escapes his share of the fee was never made plainer than in action this week from the three-nation talks on Great Britain's dollar crisis. While the solution, immediate and future, is economic and technical it is not difficult to see that broad repercussions of the settlement will be felt directly on two continents of the world, if not universally. For the North American continent this is clearly the end of an era in which it was thought someone was going to profit out of the war. For Great Britain, and a number of European countries which will look to this settlement for precedent, it is a real sign of the sharing of a burden that was not theirs alone.

There are many parallels in the case with what transpired after the Great War. The punitive imposition of "war debts" after 1919 was found unworkable, the Dawes and other plans followed with successive easements, and in the end it was conceded that nations could only pay with goods where there was no other means of settlement. Then, as now, North America believed that somehow it was distinct and separate from the economies of Europe. Now, as then, it has been demonstrated that this is one world, and that if the Western nations do not co-operate genuinely there can be little recovery for any one of them. The parallel is closer than that, but space forbids its extension.

Freer trade exchange, less restrictive monetary formulae, clear recognition that the Western world has a common problem on its hands, and perhaps some tardy recognition of the fact that even austerities have to be shared, are all implicit in the Washington settlement to which Canada is a party. How this will affect Canadian trade can be guessed at, but not known until the amended plan is in full operation. Canada's response may yet prove to be one of the most significant parts of the arrangement, but that it promises an expanding belt is beyond credence in the light of all the circumstances. Wars have to be paid for, and the means are painful and slow.

The Axe and the Saw Will Continue in B.C. Woods

COMMON sense, a little patience and a more realistic appreciation of the changing times on both sides of the argument have brought accord in British Columbia's logging camps and sawmills. The essential gain now is that production will continue, wages will not be interrupted, and forest dollars, which form one of the lifelines of this province's economy, will give a full account of themselves this year instead of only a partial one. The benefit will be everybody's in so far as British Columbia is concerned, while the effect on the national economy likewise will be beneficial.

It is marching a fair distance towards industrial peace to understand that any course of action which provokes a strike on the one hand, or leads with the threat of it on the other, is not in the best interests of management, labor or of the general public. Men are employable only under certain conditions, largely set by economic factors. Men will work only under certain conditions, including the security of their jobs and a fair return for their labor. Strain either side of the equation and the accord snaps, as in human relations it is bound to do. It is a solid achievement, then, to settle a dispute without recourse to final action by strike or lockout.

In this instance the credit is sufficient to go all of the way around. Both operators and employees proved willing in the end to give and to take. The Provincial Department of Labor, under Hon. John Cates, was effective in the long-continued negotiations towards a settlement. The effect of public opinion acting on all concerned was, no doubt, also a useful check. The only individuals who will dislike the settlement are the professional trouble-makers, and it is time that they learned that in this country agitation is a losing game.

Biological Warfare Highly Speculative

DR. Brock Chisholm, former deputy minister of the Federal Health Department and currently the Canadian director-general of the World Health Organization, curdled many a spine last week-end by his declaration that the atom bomb was obsolete and that a biological product was available that could kill off the human race with merely seven ounces. Fortunately for normal nerves, Dr. O. M. Solandt, Canada's chief defence research authority, has come along with a restorative; he says Dr. Chisholm is wrong in perspective.

Where experts disagree it behooves the laymen to walk warily, but there is the recollection that Dr. Chisholm likes to shock the public. He it was who once said that children should not be taught adult rules of right and wrong as a guide, although failing to provide a substitute in their place. It was he also who condemned the human race as a "biological impossibility," even though no other than the familiar existing type has ever been known. Dr. Chisholm, it will be gathered, is no great admirer of the race of which he is a member.

That may account for some of the perspective that causes him to see things in reverse. Even a layman, however, could have noted the military advantage that lay in containing destructive power within the confines of one single bomb, as compared with the dispersal treatment of intended victims that Dr. Solandt points out. Biological warfare is no new thought, but one is thankful for Dr. Solandt's assurance that it is not so feasible a form of attack as an atom bomb. Atomic weapons are far too much as it is.

ALASKA RAILWAY

Sir,—I heard a broadcast from CBR, Vancouver, at 8 a.m. recently, and it quoted the United States joint Chiefs of Staff who are investigating defence problems in Alaska as saying "that a railway to Alaska would be very convenient (I think that was the word) but (and these are the exact words) a railway to Alaska was not essential for military purposes."

TRANSPORTATION

Sir,—May I comment on a letter which appeared in last Saturday's Colonist entitled "Working Men Only?"

I quite agree there are women who could arrange their shopping so they would not need to travel on the buses during rush hours, and certainly this should be done whenever possible. But would our correspondent like to suggest how the bus driver can distinguish between the "culprits" and working women who are unable to shop at any other time?

There are exceptions to the rule which might affect housewives, too. Maybe Mom, after working at home all day, had to wait till 3:30 or so till junior arrived home from school, so she could take him to town to be fitted with new shoes, and perhaps do other necessary shopping.

If she must wait till after 6 p.m. to get a bus, where is Dad's supper when he gets home after a hard day's work?

LILLIAN B. HOGARTH.
2350 Lee Avenue, Victoria, B.C.

TRANSPORTATION

Sir,—Relative to A. Brown's letter on Saturday proposing a special bus service for working men only, I think that one for housewives would be more appropriate. Mr. Brown probably does not understand that housewives find it often impossible to shop early in the day when school children and husbands return at noon for lunch, crowding the daily morning routines. Women usually cannot leave home until 2 p.m. to do essential shopping for home and family. They have to hurry to get a bus by four o'clock. On top of that, they have a four or five-hour stretch ahead of them supplying hotel service to everyone else.

It might be a good idea if the working men walked home. The change of exercise would be beneficial. There is nothing better for the health than walking. And an hour's delay in Dad's return would probably be a great relief, especially as his lady is expected to be well groomed, prettily attired in the evening, and beaming with delight if she is to keep her husband's affection.

Silent are the woods and the dim green boughs are Hushed in the twilight yonder in the path through
The apple orchard, is a tired plough-boy
Calling the cows home.

A bright, white star blinks, the pale moon rounds, but Still the red, lurid wreckage of the sunset
Smoulders in smoky fire, and burns on
The misty hill-tops.

Ghostly it grows, and darker, the burning
Fades into smoke, and now the gusty oaks are
A silent army of phantoms thronging
A land of shadows.

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

I WOULDN'T suggest it is part of the lure to attract American dollars, but it is a common sight in Canadian towns and cities, including the fair one of Victoria, to see the Stars and Stripes flaunting their appeal from flagpoles and other supports.

The idea, no doubt, is to make Americans feel at home when they come and visit us.

This flying of the American flag is done in all innocence, although sometimes I've wondered what the people who own that flag think of it. Now I know what at least one U.S. citizen from California thinks, and I don't suppose he is alone in his views.

He doesn't like it.

In fact, he is amazed at our invasion of a field that doesn't belong to us.

A six-week tour across Canada so surprised him that when he got back to the Golden State he sat down and wrote a letter to The Halifax Chronicle-Herald, although he could easily have directed his remarks closer to home.

It was a friendly letter, but it had its sharp points.

* * *

Everywhere he went in Canada he found a "promiscuous" use of his national flag—inside and outside of stores, on hotels, tourist cabins, and other buildings. Normally when he and his family travel in a foreign country and they see the Stars and Stripes they expect to find an American official of some sort, maybe a U.S. consul, or an ambassador, or such like.

"This is what we look for," he said, "and we know of no one else in any other country who has the right to fly our flag."

That's a touch-down; and it leaves us without an answer.

When he was in Halifax he and his family attended a band concert in the park, where he got another shock. The program ended with the band playing first the American and then the Canadian national anthems.

That made him write:

"Now all this may seem like a neighbourly gesture to you Canadians but to us it doesn't seem right. If you were entertaining our President, his representative, or officially entertaining an American celebrity, we could understand it, but we, who are trained to use our flag—and yours—correctly, and when to sing our national anthem—and yours—wonder if you have had the same training."

* * *

We haven't, of course, and that accounts for our bad manners in messing about with a flag that is the property of somebody else. Pride in flags and what they stand for is not a favorite Canadian subject.

He would probably be more surprised if he knew we don't even have a distinctive national flag and that the subject is taboo in high circles. He doesn't know about our timid habit of appointing flag committees, just as we appoint royal commissions, and then pigeonholing their reports ostensibly to keep peace in the family.

The status quo musn't be disturbed, you see.

Some day, perhaps, we'll grow up and be able to settle the flag question once and for all, like the Americans would have settled it long ago had it been their problem. Then we might see to it that Canadians are taught when and when not to fly national flags, their own and others.

The national anthem I won't discuss, seeing that the women of the Canadian Club are engaged in studying the conflicting versions of "O Canada," which some people favor as a replacement for "God Save the King."

* * *

Our American friend had one more thing to say, viz:

"It is to be hoped that when Canadians come to visit our United States, they will not think us unfriendly when they do not see either their Canadian flag flying—except where it belongs officially—or hear their national anthem sung—except on correct occasions."

No, we won't think our neighbors across the line unfriendly, in fact we won't think anything about it at all. Unlike Americans we are pretty indifferent about such things as flags and anthems when we go abroad. We don't have the same patriotic interest in them as they do—more's the pity.

Ten chances to one we might not even notice whether the Red Ensign was flown from American flagpoles or either "God Save the King" or "O Canada" played by American bands.

And if they were and we did, it's a certainty we wouldn't come home and write a letter of protest to a United States newspaper, pointing out gently but firmly any trespass we observed.

No, when it comes to flags and anthems, we are a lackadaisical lot.

The Bank of British Columbia was established by Royal charter in 1862, with headquarters in London, England, and a secondary head office at Victoria, Vancouver Island. Originated because of the gold discoveries on the Fraser, the bank had branches throughout British Columbia and the Pacific Coast States. In 1901 it was absorbed by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, after weathering a number of financial storms including the United States "panic" of 1893.

How Long Can Tito Escape?

By RAYMOND MOLEY

THE roots of the struggle which ended in the murder of Leon Trotsky, some years ago, were in the basic denial of Marxian internationalism by Stalin and his government. The basic issue in Tito's present battle with Moscow is the same thing. And no one who understands the ruthless methods of the Politburo expects this issue will be resolved short of the same expedient.

The amazing thing is that Tito has not been assassinated before this. The reason must be a system of personal protection that has hardly been seen before, except in the case of Hitler. But in a country where life is cheap and assassination is a refined art, it is hard to see how Tito can long survive the fury of his enemies.

There is no question about that fury. The most recent Soviet note has dropped the pretense that Tito's heresy is merely a failure to follow the internationalism of the Cominform. The Soviet Union now charges that Tito's Government—the government of the nation—has become an enemy not of international Communism but of the Soviet Union.

Meanwhile, every conceivable weapon of nationalistic force, except war and assassination, has been put into force. The Soviet tried, first, to discredit Tito in his own country by denying its nationalistic claims to a slice of Austria. Yugoslavs in neighboring Balkan countries have been organized under Soviet direction to promote revolution by remote control. There are threats to move these groups at some stated time into Tito's country on a mission of "liberation." The Soviet itself is rattling the sword of armored divisions at the border. And every effort is being made to incite sub-nationalistic movements, such as that of Macedonia.

* * *

All this is not because Tito is not a Communist. His type of ideology, in fact, is much more thoroughly Marxian than that of Moscow. There are some differences in method, notably in his system of nationalizing farms. But those are details.

Meanwhile, Tito is leaning heavily upon the nationalistic feeling of his own Yugoslavs and has resisted and frustrated every effort to upset his government. He is even now preparing to carry the battle to his opponents by organizing a cominform of his own to win converts in neighboring Balkan countries and in Russia.

The simple fact is that this battle with Tito has revealed that the Politburo is not a real instrument of international Marxism, but a fiercely Russian nationalistic government that merely uses Communism as a means for furthering its ends. And Tito has shrewdly brought this into the clear light of day.

The fury of Moscow has betrayed its realization of that fact and more. It has shown that its own position is not too secure. A confident and stable government never needs to show violent emotion, even when its foreign office is headed by a creature of passion like Vishinsky. Tito is merely the incidental object of a mood of frustration that arises from a general failure. That failure pertains to all of the Soviet postwar plans for domination in Europe. Its failure extends to its puppet governments everywhere which are feeling an increasing pressure to resume relations with the West.

Perhaps that frustration cannot be eased, even by the murder of Tito. But there is no doubt that such a purpose is high on the list of Soviet plans.

They Don't Like It Either

By I.N.S. in The Ottawa Journal

IT is probably a strength rather than a weakness that people find it hard to believe that any thing or any person is all bad.

Several times at United Nations meetings I have begun still another story of Russia's blockade tactics or her open frustration of the U.N. ideal—begun the story and then torn it up with the thought that I had sent several of a similar vein in the previous few days. "Another anti-Russian story out of me this week and what readers I have will think I'm seeing Reds under the bed or being paid by Wall Street."

I think of Walter O'Hearn, Canada's veteran U.N. reporter who though there from the beginning retains not only his sanity but his hope. Walking into the Palais de Chaillot one day at the Assembly session in Paris last Fall, Walter observed: "Today I'm going to find out something good to say about Russia even if I have to walk the halls all day."

I don't remember whether he did or not—but the point is that reporters have no relish writing daily expositions of Russia's obstructionism. Reporters don't like the part they may play in widening the gulf between East and West. But honest reporters don't fashion stories out of thin air. If you have had a heavy diet of anti-Russian stuff these last few years from U.N.'s meetings it is simply because U.N. has been confronted by Russia all along the way in every way and day by day.

The Eternal Search

(From The Winnipeg Free Press)

HEAVEN only knows how many creaky old alchemists from the time of the ancient Greeks on down through the Middle Ages stirred their smoky potions in search of the elixir of youth—the golden secret that would bring curly locks out on baldish pates, send youthful vigor coursing in rheumy limbs, and all that sort of thing.

Ponce de Leon thought the secret lay in a mysterious fountain somewhere in the Carib country of Central America, and spent a couple of galleons full of gold trying to find it. There has apparently been no shortage of well-heeled old sports since to keep up a strong effective demand because the scientists keep plugging away.

At various times they have offered goat glands, monkey glands, hormones; and now the rich and young-at-heart are newly in a dither about the youth serum announced by a French scientist, about which glowing but not very well documented claims are being made.

All those whose fine flush of youth has departed will string along with the hopers against hope that this time they've got something. But wasn't it just the other year that some Russian scientist said he had a concoction which would enable men to live to 150? And then he up and died in a week or two, a mere kid of 64, almost before he had the words out of his mouth.

Fun, Fact and Fiction

Flirting was once prohibited in French Canada. In 1736 the daughter of Pierre Andre, Sieur de Leigne, Lieutenant Governor of Quebec, was deported to France for this offence.

CARELESS YOUTH

"I couldn't care less." This phrase, common among our younger folk, has come in for some severe criticism lately, as indicating an indifferent or cynical habit of mind. But what do these moralists expect? If young men and women grow up in a world of total warfare and atom bombs, they have to protect themselves by saying "I couldn't care less" or stick their heads in a gas oven. Human nature has to adjust itself to immediate circumstances, so now, when it is still young and flexible, it goes about, in easy clothes and with not much ambition, crying that it couldn't care less. And if these elderly moralists want to do something useful, they might ignore their favorite target, careless youth, and concentrate their wrath upon really powerful dangerous older men, who couldn't care more.

THERE is only one way to prevent worry. Forget the past, disregard the present, and ignore the future. . . . No matter how bad a situation may be, a man can lose his temper and make it worse. . . . A biologist pointed out that the age of haddock could be ascertained from the growth rings on its scales. The age of a fish is generally told by one's nose. . . The anticipated drop in meat prices failed to materialize. It will take the cow that jumped over the moon a long time to come down to earth. . . . From Life: "Three scientists at Yale University's School of Medicine announced they had isolated a virus which at times causes a disease very much like mild poliomyelitis. The new virus disease has been found to produce all the recognizable symptoms of polio, except paralysis. It runs its course in ten days, and leaves no after effects. It is possible that a good proportion of this year's record-breaking total of polio cases is not polio at all, but it is too early to determine what the proportion may be." . . . A woman in a large new automobile sped west on Richardson Street, and failed to slow down when approaching the stop sign at the intersection of Cook Street. She was jabbering to a friend in the front seat, and such things as arterial highways were far from her thoughts. A small but fast car roared north along Cook Street. The driver saw that the woman apparently did not intend to stop, and a collision appeared inevitable. He almost bent the steering wheel with a blow to the horn button. A loud blast rent the air, and the women threw on her emergency brake so hard that the tires left heavy black streaks on the road surface. A collision was averted by a matter of a few feet. The driver of the small car explained to a passenger that he had installed a logging truck horn, and its commanding roar had saved him from several accidents.

Says Individual Master Due to Free Enterprise

The United States has attained its present high standard of living through the results of a democratic system of free enterprise—a system where the individual is master of the state.

So said John Langenbach, governor of the Kiwanis International Pacific Northwest district, in an address to the Victoria Kiwanis Club yesterday at the Empress Hotel.

In the course of a thumbnail review of progress made in the U.S.A. over the past 100 years, Mr. Langenbach noted that citizens of that nation possessed 83 per cent of the world's cars, 87 per cent of the radios, and 88 per cent of the refrigerators. "There's an automobile produced every minute in the U.S.A.," he added.

OPPORTUNITY THERE

The district governor said there were at least 8,000,000 individually-owned businesses in the States, in which more than 60,000,000 persons were actively employed. The opportunity for advancement is there, he intimated, and its up to the individual to grasp it.

Business and industry, he added, were faced with a double-barreled problem: Labor wants more for its work, and the consumers want constantly improved products, and at reasonable prices.

With reference to current dollar problems of the world, he praised Canada, the United States and Britain for reaching some sort of settlement to ease the situation. He described the U.S.A. as representing the labor, Britain the consumer, and Canada the business and industry.

When plans are completed for the availability of dollars to England, Canada will also benefit considerably, he remarked.

The meeting concuded with Mr. Langenbach presenting a special Kiwanis International certificate to Andrew Stewart, immediate past president of the Victoria club, "in recognition of outstanding leadership" during his term as president.

Tonight a number of local Kiwanians will journey to Genoa Bay where Duncan's new Kiwanis Club will hold its charter night dinner. Mr. Langenbach will officially present the charter. Among those to attend will be president Don Smith, other officers of the Victoria club, and Denis Hagar, lieutenant governor for the district.

October 27 has been set as charter night for the recently formed Kiwanis Club at Courtenay.

Officials Pay Tribute To Late Ald. J. Baxter

come on hearing of his co-worker's untimely passing.

"I am very sorry to see him go. He was the salt of the earth. It didn't matter what he was needed for — pleasure or work — he was always there.

"John was a very welcome addition to City Council when he was elected. He always had a level head and knew what he was saying or taking part in.

"In sport circles, particularly Rugby, he was a keen enthusiast, not in participation, but in management, direction and esprit de corps," said Ald. McTavish.

SILENT TRIBUTE

Informed of Ald. Baxter's death during a late committee meeting last night, Saanich Council stood in silent tribute.

Said Acting Reeve George Austin, who presided in the absence of Reeve E. C. Warren:

"I worked with John Baxter for 15 years. As fine a man as one could wish to meet. He will be sadly missed."

Reeve Robert A. Wootton of Oak Bay, paid high tribute to the "well-loved alderman," stating that Oak Bay was much distressed at hearing the news of Ald. Baxter's passing.

"His death is indeed regrettable. His great wealth of experience will be sorely missed, especially on the water board where he served with such vigor," declared Esquimalt Reeve A. I. Thomas.

Ald. Baxter was born in Dumfries, Scotland, moving to Victoria in 1911.

IN HIGHLANDERS

In 1915 he joined the 50th Regiment of the Gordon Highlanders, transferring to the 103rd Battalion in 1916. During the Great War he served with the 11th Brigade Headquarters in France.

Later, he was transferred to the 7th Battalion in the front lines and saw action at Hill 60, Arras and Amiens. He returned to this city in 1919.

Ald. Baxter suffered the attack Monday evening at the family residence at 120 St. Andrews Street.

He had returned to Victoria by train Monday afternoon from Shawnigan Lake where he had been holidaying. He left the lake to attend yesterday's meeting of City Council and was planning to return to the Up-Island resort.

His wife, Mrs. Hilda Baxter, who did not accompany her husband, drove to Victoria after being notified of his illness.

STRICKEN EARLIER

The alderman had been stricken early in the year but was much improved in physical condition in recent weeks.

Ald. Baxter is survived by his widow, and two daughters, Miss Nan Baxter, at home, and Mrs. Ruth Cooper, at Rolla, B.C., and three sisters in England.

An only son, George, was killed early in the World War in a flying accident on the West Coast.

Funeral arrangement will be announced later.

Urge Uniform Highway Signs

LAKE LOUISE, Alta., Sept. 13 (CP).—A system of uniform highway signs and markings throughout North America was urged today at the 30th annual convention of the Canadian Good Roads Association.

Charles R. Waters, district engineer of the New York State Department of Public Works, made the suggestion.

Takes Exception to Report On Conditions in Britain

The British lion, symbolized by J. O. Pearson, president of the Canadian branch of Britain's "largest wool merchants," was roaring in the streets of Victoria last night.

And it was roaring in a rich Yorkshire accent.

Object of Mr. Pearson's wrath was Victorian Bernard Gough, recently returned from England with a tale of woe about conditions in Britain that he aired before fellow members of the local Gyro Club, at a luncheon Monday.

"He mustn't be allowed to get away with that," said Mr. Pearson angrily, last night. "That business about the luggage now . . ."

Mr. Gough had reported that it had taken from Saturday until the following Friday to have a suitcase delivered by rail from Liverpool to Leeds—a distance of 80 miles.

ONLY FEW HOURS

"Of course it would, if he was silly enough to send it on a goods train," said Mr. Pearson, indignantly. "If he'd sent it on the passenger it would have been in Leeds in a couple of hours."

"There's a very good reason for five-shilling meals," he continued, forcing himself to take things in turn. "People have to be limited, so they won't buy too much imported food that takes dollars to buy."

"Britain has been through two world wars from the first day to the last," the Yorkshireman went on, getting into his stride: "she had to sell assets to buy arms."

MOST RAPID RECOVERY

"And she has already made the most rapid recovery of any European country, bar Sweden, a non-belligerent.

"I'd also like to tell him," Mr. Pearson added, getting warm at Mr. Gough again, "that whether he likes it or not, in the world all over, the day of the worker has arrived.

"I'll tell you this," he said solemnly, "even if a Tory government went back into power today it would still keep such as coal, rail, public utilities and medical attention all nationalized.

"Yes it would," he put in for emphasis.

"In its line of thought, Britain is probably 50 years ahead of the Western world, which has not yet faced necessity," he stated.

ADMITS MISTAKES

"You can also say the Labor Government has made some mistakes," he said.

"But over the life of a nation like Britain, which thinks in 100's of years, even ten years is not a long time in which to be learning."

Mr. Pearson concluded his rebuttal by reporting that this was his 27th visit to Canada, but his first to Vancouver and Victoria.

"And I had to read something like that Mr. Gough," he snorted.

Health Plan Claimed Asset

The Labor Government's success with its current health program in Great Britain may be the key point in the next election.

James McGrath, who recently returned from a tour of Britain, told more than 200 members of the Burns Club at a meeting held in the Prince Robert House last night, that it was one of the greatest assets ever to be offered to the people of that country.

"It only costs about 80 cents a week," he said, "and you can register with any doctor you want.

"The scheme includes dentist, doctor, drugs, X-ray treatment and eye specialist," he said.

The death rate from influenza in Canada has fallen 81 per cent during the past 20 years.

May Lift Hunting Ban Saturday If Rain Reduces Fire Hazard

The hunting season in the western game district will open Saturday if weather forecasters are correct in predicting rain and cooler weather.

This was indicated by the B.C. Forest Service yesterday as the fire hazard in the Vancouver forest district lessened slightly.

The Forest Service said the hazard was still high on Vancouver Island despite cloudy skies yesterday. Eight of 16 lookout stations on the Vancouver district still report "high hazard." Seven of the stations are on the Island and the eighth is on Texada Island.

In the northeast coastal area, however, the hazard is reduced and B.C. Forest Products were reported to have burned some slash without difficulty.

Two small blazes were reported from the Langford district yesterday. Both were extinquired.

Seven old fires are still burning in the Vancouver district, all under control.

Elsewhere in the province 21 fires are being fought by 20 men and all are reported under control.

Major Schjelderup and Bride To Reside in British Isles

A wedding creating much interest in Ottawa, where the ceremony was performed, and on the Island where the groom is well known, was solemnized in Christ Church Cathedral, Ottawa, on Saturday, September 3. The principals were Major Vilhelm Roger Schjelderup, D.S.O., M.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. V. Schjelderup of Courtenay, V.I., who is a member of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry and a former member of the 1st Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment, while the bride is the former Miss Ida Gladys Stewart Hundevad, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. John Hundevad of Ottawa.

Very Rev. Howard H. Clark officiated at the double-ring ceremony and Mr. Alan Stewart Hundevad, brother of the bride, played the wedding music. He also conducted a choir of 20 boys who sang during the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Miss Margaret Halferdahl as maid of honor.

The best man was Lieut. Kenneth Wardroper and the ushers were Major W. H. Ellis and Capt. Brian O'Connell.

The bride wore a gown of French ivory lace designed by Alfandri, fashioned with square neckline, long fitted bodice, long sleeves coming to points at the wrists and a very full skirt with long train. A small jeweled crown held her long veil of tulle illusion and she carried a bouquet of white gladioli and white stephanotis.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 24 Rockcliffe Way. The couple left on a wedding trip to Northern Quebec, and for travelling the bride wore a grey tailored suit with dark green accessories.

TO LIVE IN ENGLAND

Major and Mrs. Schjelderup will leave for England shortly where the groom will take a course at the Military College of Science, at Shrivenham, Wilts.

Wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. V. Schjelderup and Hassel Schjelderup of Courtenay, B.C., and Miss Mia Schjelderup of London, England.

On Honeymoon In Vancouver

At a quiet ceremony performed by the Rev. Father A. McLelland in the Bishop's House, View Street, on [illegible] ter of Mr. and Mrs. John Nash of Biggar, Sask., exchanged nuptial vows with Mr. Earl Francis Darragh.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. Vernon Nash, wore a steel blue gabardine suit with white accessories. A gold cross, a gift from the groom, was her only jewelry, and she carried a white praper book with red roses and white carnations.

Mrs. R. P. O'Connell, the bride's cousin, was the only attendant, and she wore a beige gabardine suit with matching hat and white accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

Mr. Gerald Cherry was the best man and Mr. Patrick Nash and Mr. Royson Denton acted as ushers.

A reception was held in Terry's rose room where a three-tiered wedding cake, pastel-toned sweet peas and pink candles decorated the bride's table. Mrs. Flood, assisted by Miss Bea Carloss, received the guests and the toast was proposed by Mr. R. P. O'Connell.

Leaving for a honeymoon in Vancouver, the bride donned a raspberry red shortie coat over her wedding suit with a corsage of Sweetheart roses. Mr. and Mrs. Darragh will make their home in Victoria.

Sir Mathew Baillie Begbie Chapter, I.O.D.E., will meet on Friday at 2:30 p.m. at headquarters.

To Celebrate Golden Wedding Today

Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Dent, 3312 Whittier Avenue, will be "at home" to their friends today on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary. Home for this occasion will be Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dent and family of Binghamton, New York, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dent of Nanaimo, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dent and Carol, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dent and family, Misses Blanche and Myrtle Dent, all of Victoria. Congratulations have been received from Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Dent of Endicott, New York, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Uhler of Vestal, New York, absent members of the family. Mr. and Mrs. Dent were married in Toronto, Ont., and they have resided in Victoria since 1929.

Landlord Loses Appeal Against Damage Ruling

A Vancouver landlord who sought to dampen the spirits of a late-hour visitor in his roominghouse by dashing a corrosive over the visitor's shiny new car won no more sympathy from Appeal Court Judges here than he had from the magistrate in Vancouver.

"It was a contemptible act," Magistrate W. W. B. McInnes reported to the senior judges. "And I told the appellant that if he had been a younger man I would have certainly sent him to jail."

TO REPAIR DAMAGE

He fined L. Lubin, the West 13th Avenue landlord $100 for damaging David R. Williams' car, and ordered him to pay an extra $100 to bring back the shiny finish when Lubin appeared in Vancouver police court, last July 6.

In his appeal, argued by his lawyer, T. C. Marshall, he asked the Appeal Court to quash the conviction for lack of sufficinet evidence. He claimed it was too dark that night for anyone to be able to see who had defaced the car.

According to the evidence repeated from the police court trial, young Williams, described by the magistrate as a "respectable young man" drove his fiance to her quarters in the rooming house after a night out. A new sign forbade callers after 11 p.m.

The engaged couple were having tea when Mr. Lubin banged on the door and ordered the suitor out because it was past calling hours, according to the magistrate's report. Williams answered that he would leave as soon as he finished his tea.

"This infuriated the appellant and he left," Magistrate McInnes reported. "He secured some kind of corrosive from the basement and sprinkled it over the youth's car. Damage was conservatively assessed at $100."

After hearing the evidence, the higher court decided to dismiss the appeal. Then Mr. Marshall asked if he could appeal from the sentence.

"I note that the Criminal Code has a maximum of five years for this," Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan remarked.

"Don't you think he was lucky to get off with a fine?" asked Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson. The court dismissed the appeal from sentence.

Demonstration Parties May Cost Super Salesmen Trades Licence

SAANICH COUNCIL NEWS

Salesmen who give dinner parties to demonstrate their wares will have to pay trade licences in Saanich if the licence inspector can catch up with them.

Council last night, after hearing reports of the selling scheme, instructed the inspector to investigate movement and methods of the salesmen and to start licencing them.

Councillor John G. Ryan felt the salesmen were working in direct competition to local merchants and should be required to pay a fee.

It was gathered from remarks of the councillors that the salesmen move into a neighborhood and invite residents to an affair where utensils are demonstrated. A meal is served to show how much better food tastes when cooked in the salesmen's product and sales sometimes follow.

LIFT RESTRICTIONS

Council ordered lifted all watering restrictions in Saanich after H. D. Dawson, municipal engineer, said there was no further necessity for the regulations.

APPLICATION REFUSED

Application of Charles Traunweiser, San Sebastian Auto Court, for permission to erect motel accommodation on Gorge Road West was refused by the council.

CUT TREES

G. F. Green, B.C. Electric light and power superintendent, asked permission to cut trees on the road allowance on Hector Road to permit construction of a power line. Council decided to have the engineer and the councillor of the ward look over the land.

COMPENSATION

Council awarded $8 compensation to F. Craze, 1290 Holloway Street, for the loss of eight chickens, killed recently by a dog.

ASK LEASE

Council was informed by the Department of Lands it is dealing with an application to lease four acres of foreshore situated in Haro Strait, near Finnerty Cove, required as a site for a boathouse and foreshore protection. Joint tenants are Mr. and Mrs. W. Paskin, Mr. Justice Norman Whittaker and Mrs. Whittaker and Dr. and Mrs. Alexander F. Mahaffy.

The Lands Department will be informed that the council opposes the application because it is felt access to the beach should be retained.

GRANT

Council made a grant to the Boy Scouts' Association equivalent to the current taxes on various Scout properties. Amount will be about $100.

APPROVED

Request from F. Copithorne, electrical inspector, to attend a conference next month in Vancouver of the Electrical Inspectors' Association of British Columbia, was approved.

LOCAL IMPROVEMENT

John B. Tribe, municipal clerk, reported a petition for the reconstruction of Cedar Avenue under local improvement plan was all in order. Council instructed him to prepare the necessary by-law. The section to be reconstructed is between Shelbourne Street and Richmond Road.

PUBLIC HEARING

A public hearing will be called soon on a request of Hawkes, Foster Ltd., 1815 Douglas Street, for rezoning of three lots on Quadra Street near Nicholson Road for commercial purposes.

BUS SHELTER

The Royal Oak Women's Institute requested permission to erect a bus shelter at the Royal Oak intersection. It was referred to the transportation committee.

MOBILE SHOP

T. M. Roddie, 1587 McRae Avenue, applied for a trades licence to operate a mobile repair shop for marine engines and logging equipment. Council did not pass judgment but decided to ask the applicant if he intended also having a place of business.

AUSTIN PRESIDES

Veteran Councillor George Austin was acting reeve in the absence of Reeve E. C. Warren. Councillors Leslie H. Passmore and William C. Kersey also were absent.

Exploring Music Course Lists Symphony Growth

Victoria Symphony conductor Hans Gruber's "Exploring Music" course at Victoria College evening division classes, is not a repeat of last Spring's lectures, Professor Robert Wallace, director of the evening courses, emphasized here yesterday.

Instead it will deal with composers from Beethoven to the present period and discuss the evolution of symphony orchestras during the same period. The Spring course dealt with the dawn of music to the time of Beethoven.

STARTS SEPTEMBER 28

The course starts September 28 and will be held on 12 successive Sundays starting at 8 p.m. and finishing at 9 p.m.

Fee for the full course on musical lore is $6, with a special rate for husband and wife duo-registrations of $9.

In mailing registrations it is only necessary to state name, address and phone number, together with course desired. Correct fee should be enclosed.

With enrollment steadily growing for the evening division credit courses, officials point out that registration for these classes must be made in person on one of the first four evenings of next week, between 7:30 and 9:30 o'clock. New registrants must present university entrance or junior matriculation certificates at this time.

Regular university credits are attached to these courses. Included in the list are English, second-year English, psychology, economics, geography and philosophy.

Instruction will be given by Victoria College faculty and courses are contingent on a sufficient enrollment, it is emphasized.

Road Contract Award Today

Contract for construction of a new road through the Rithet property from Quadra Street to Blenkinsop Road will be awarded today, John B. Tribe, Saanich municipal clerk, said last night after a lengthy committee meeting on the subject.

Council received five tenders for the project which will be the route of the new water main for the 7,000,000-gallon reservoir to be constructed on Rithet Hill. A road also will be constructed to the top of Rithet Hill.

Details of the tenders were not released.

Thieves Make Dress Haul

Two dozen dresses valued at $350 were stolen recently from S. A. Rand Ltd., manufacturers, with upstairs premises at 1407 Store Street, according to city police reports.

Police learned the dresses were made up September 8 and were found to be missing the following morning.

S. A. Rand, owner, reported that any person with a key to the downstairs door could have removed the dresses as there was only a low partition around the shop.

At the Theatres

ODEON THEATRE An intriguing movie combination, Joan Fontaine and Burt Lancaster, is winning favor with fans at the Odeon Theatre. The popular stars are presented in a vivid new melodrama called "The Unafraid." Seen in a co-starring role is Robert Newton, celebrated British actor who attracted widespread attention on the American screen in "Odd Man Out."

PLAZA THEATRE Now showing at the Plaza is "The Red Shoes," carrying a stellar dance cast of Ludmilla Tcherina, Leonide Massine and Robert Helpman, Britain's leading dancer and choreographer.

ROYAL THEATRE Anne Baxter, with bangs and spit curls, gives a nostalgic touch to the Twentieth Century - Fox Technicolor musical, "You're My Everything," now showing at the Royal Theatre, with her impersonation of Clara Bow, the famous "It" girl of the twenties. Anne co-stars with Dan Dailey in this gay and tuneful production which takes a peek behind the Hollywood scene of the 1924-1938 period.

ATLAS THEATRE Republic has utilized picturesque Catalina Island for location scenes for "Wake of the Red Witch," now showing at the Atlas Theatre. An area in the isthmus section of the island was made into a replica of Little Soembawa Island, where much of the action of the Garland Roark novel takes place.

CAPITOL THEATRE "House of Strangers," a taut, gripping melodrama, with an all-star cast headed by Edward G. Robinson, Susan Hayward and Richard Conte, and New York's teeming Little Italy as a background, is now showing at the Capitol Theatre.

FOX THEATRE Showing the first half of the week will be another pleasing program of drama and comedy. Hal Roach's Kiddies are back again. Their antics will please anyone, young or old.

LONDON, Sept. 13 (Reuters)—Britain's adverse trade balance, the excess of imports over exports, rose sharply in August, amounting to about £58,600,000 ($234,400,000) Trade Minister Harold Wilson disclosed.

Declares Mill Well Supplied, Pact Upheld

Gilbert McNutt, Wilson Road, Saanich, launched his defence in Supreme Court yesterday against the $5,000 breach of contract suit brought against him by William R. Spicer, Malahat mill operator.

Spicer claims McNutt broke a contract by failing to keep an adequate supply of good logs at his mill. Represented by A. P. Dawe, he wound up his case yesterday morning.

D. J. Lawson, McNutt's lawyer, called D. G. Fladgate, sales manager of Manning Timber Products, to testify lumber prices were falling. A clause in the contract called for re-opening of negotiations if lumber prices varied by 20 per cent.

When Mr. McNutt took the witness stand, he claimed he kept a supply of logs for the mill to cut except in bad weather and even then there was a stockpile for use at the mill.

He denied Spicer's claim that the logs were all of poor quality and said they were poorly scaled by an inexperienced man. The case is continuing before Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane.

Court Reduces Sentence Of Driver Who Took Car

Appeal Court yesterday reduced a car theft conviction against William Heller Jr., 3016 Tillicum Road, to a conviction for taking a car without the owner's consent. They sentenced him to the seven weeks he has already served before he was released on bail to await his appeal.

Heller was convicted by Magistrate H. C. Hall and given the minimum sentence of one year in prison when he appeared in Victoria police court charged with the theft last December 18 of a car owned by John J. Roscoe, Sidney.

According to evidence repeated in the higher court, Heller had taken the car from his father's Bee Line Auto Sales used car lot and crashed the car a block away.

HAD FORBIDDEN SON

Although his father had the right to take cars on consignment to him, he had forbidden his son to do so unless he was with a driver with a licence in good standing. Heller's licence was under suspension.

Appeal Court judges agreed with Heller's Vancouver lawyer, T. C. Marshall, that "what has taken place here is primarily a breach of parental discipline."

Joseph McKenna, Crown counsel, said he considered the case contained all the elements of a theft charge, but said he would not oppose any lessening of the charge by the court.

GIVEN REMAND

Appeal Justices Reinhold Macfee A. Freeman until today for judgment on his appeal from a conviction and two-month sentence for contributing to juvenile delinquency in Vancouver.

Throughout his defence, Freeman argued that he had acted in good faith in providing food and shelter for a girl his housekeeper brought to him as homeless.

Later, he said, he found that she was an escapee from a foster home, and a chronic juvenile delinquent. He ordered her out then, he said.

After hearing of the girl's record Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan asked how anyone could contribute to the delinquency of someone who was already so delinquent. He was told by the Crown counsel that under juvenile laws it didn't matter how delinquent the juvenile was to get a conviction.

Freeman has already been in custody more than twice as long as his sentence.

Scheduled for today's Appeal Court sitting is an appeal by Raymond Heffner, Vancouver, against a civil judgment awarding C. J. Jessop a total of $1,741 damages as a result of a Vancouver traffic accident at the intersection of Camble Street and Eighth Avenue.

Mr. Justice James M. Coady had awarded the damages in Supreme Court last June 7 after finding Heffner to blame for the crash.

Wardle Rites Set Tomorrow

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Irving Wardle, wife of Roland Wardle, of Chase River, who died suddenly on Monday at the Nanaimo Hospital, will be held at 2:30 p.m. on Thursday from McCall Brothers' Funeral Chapel.

Mrs. Wardle was born in Cumberland, England, and came to British Columbia 45 years ago and has been a resident of Chase River for the past 11 years. She was well known on the Island and the Mainland.

Surviving, besides her husband, are three sons, George, Jack and Edward Wilkinson, all of Victoria; two daughters, Mrs. George Higgs, and Mrs. James Rowan, also of Victoria; a brother, Jack Harris and two sisters, Mrs. A. J. Paull and Mrs. F. W. Ward, all of Vancouver.

Interment will take place at Ross Bay Cemetery.

Two Drivers Sentenced to Jail On Drunken-Driving Charges

Two drivers were sentenced to jail terms yesterday on drunken driving charges and two others paid fines when found guilty on careless and dangerous driving charges in city and Saanich police courts.

At a special sitting of Saanich police court, Gordon Guest, 320 Atkins Road, pleaded guilty to a charge of being in control of a car while intoxicated and was sentenced to seven days in jail. Magistrate H. C. Hall also suspended his driver's licence for three months. Guest was charged by Constables Robert Coleman and John Burnett. The offence took place on Gorge Road, Monday night.

In city police court, William H. Brown, 1523 Amphion Street, was found guilty on an intoxicated driving charge. He was sentenced to seven days in jail and his driver's licence was suspended for three months. The offence took place June 19 on Hillside Avenue.

Glen S. Horten, 43 Millstream Road, was fined $35 when found guilty on a dangerous driving charge arising out of an accident September 4 at the intersection of Cook Street and Princess Avenue.

On a careless driving charge, Barry W. Lee, Langley Prairie, was found guilty and fined $40 and given a licence suspension. Charge was laid August 24 after a car driven by Lee was in collision with two women at the intersection of Fort and Douglas Streets.

Joseph H. Lyons, 995 Ambassador Avenue, pleaded not guilty to a careless driving charge and was remanded to September 27 for trial. The offence is alleged to have occurred September 2 on Hillside Avenue. Clarence Hinds, 3006 Cedar Hill Road, was remanded to the same date on a dangerous driving charge.

Mortality Rate for Province Shows Drop in Last Six Months

Diseases of the heart and arteries still continue to account for the greatest number of deaths in British Columbia according to a statistics report covering the first half of 1949, issued recently by the Provincial Health Department.

However, the mortality rate for the first half of the year has decreased from 11.1 in 1948 to 10.7 in 1949.

Cancer continued as the second leading cause of death, taking 812 lives during the first half of this year compared with 792 for the first half of last year.

Accidents, the third major cause of death, took an increasing toll this year. From January to June of 1948 a total of 481 lives were lost by accidents. The figure for the same period this year was up to 493.

Pneumonia, next in line to cancer as a cause of death, claimed 241 lives this year, seven less than for the same period last year. Tuberculosis, however, during the same period took 170 lives as against 143 in 1948. Syphilis claimed 46 lives, compared with 35 during the first half of last year.

On the brighter side of the report it was noted that 162 more babies were born in British Columbia during the first half of 1949 than for the same period last year. However, because of the increase in population the birth rate was down slightly.

Divorce figures showed a decrease. During the first half of this year 887 were recorded, (compared with 961 for the first half of last year.

OTTAWA, Sept. 13 (CP). — A Government spokesman said Canada probably would review her stockpiling activities in rubber and tin, but would make no sudden plunge in buying great supplies of those commodities.

OTTAWA, Sept. 13 (CP).—With a few exceptions, the prices Canadian farmers received for Agricultural products are down. The Bureau of Statistics reported that its index of farm prices showed a decline of a full point during July.

Silver, both in its pure form and as silver nitrate, is used extensively in medicine as a killer of bacteria.

We're putting silver linings in some of your clouds!

1. Are you forced to live with in-laws because of the housing shortage? Then you'll be glad to learn that things are looking brighter now — because . . . life insurance dollars invested in housing projects to earn money for policyholders, are providing many new homes throughout the nation!
2. Are you a farmer, or farmer's wife, doing hard chores by hand? Electric power may soon save you time and energy with machines, provide convenient light and water because . . . electric power lines are being brought into more rural areas. Invested life insurance dollars are helping to finance many of these labour-saving power developments for farmers.
3. Is there a narrow bridge that chokes traffic and causes accidents in your locality? You may be surprised to find it replaced some day with . . . one of the many wide, safe bridges being built — thanks to life insurance dollars—in places where they're needed. Then watch the traffic flow!
4. Are waters polluted by raw sewage in your community? A new sewage filtration plant will solve this problem. And . . . perhaps your city will soon have one of these disease-reducing plants which life insurance dollars are helping to build.
A Helpful Citizen in Your Community

These aids to better living are founded on the work of the life insurance representative. It is largely because of his efforts that so many people buy life insurance and pay premiums — the major part of which is invested in vital projects that benefit Canadians from coast to coast.
Thus your life insurance representative is more than a helpful advisor on financial security. He's a helpful citizen, too!

5. More silver linings will be provided by life insurance dollars, invested in government bonds, which help build new roads, schools, harbours, recreation centres.
So you can see that life insurance companies do not keep policyholders' money stored away in vaults! A large part of every premium dollar is invested in sound enterprises that help raise living standards for all!

Mystery of Roberta Smith's Death Still Unsolved Despite Open Verdict

Provincial Police are still investigating the mystery death of Roberta Ann Smith, 18, 3163 Gamma Street, following a "found drowned" verdict by a coroner's jury yesterday morning.

No new leads have been found in the quest for cause of the young telephone operator's death September 2.

Witnesses at the inquest in Sands Mortuary filled in part of the gap between the time she left home on the afternoon of Friday, September 1, supposedly to go to work, and the discovery of her body floating in Thetis Lake at 7.05 a.m. on Saturday.

LAST SEEN AT 9 P.M.

Still unanswered was the major question: What happened to Miss Smith after 9 p.m., the time when she was last seen?

Coroner E. C. Hart recommended the open verdict, telling his seven-man jury that in his opinion evidence was too meagre to determine how Miss Smith was drowned.

Last week, Dr. Ross McNeely, Royal Jubilee Hospital pathologist, said Miss Smith died of drowning, and was alive when she hit the water.

Two small bruises were found on the face, and the clothes were not torn.

Not brought out in yesterday's inquest testimony was the reason why she was found wearing a new pair of slacks after leaving home clad in a dress.

CLOTHES ON SHORE

When she was taken from the water she wore the jacket which matched the dress, found in a packet of clothes wrapped in a towel on shore. Underclothes, skirt, and a magazine were in the towel. Two handkerchiefs were found on the rocks nearby, but their connection with the dead girl was not established.

Evidence of witnesses added up to the fact that Miss Smith was depressed on the day before her death.

Her friend of two years' standing, Dorothy Newman, 502 Catherine, burst into tears in the witness chair after admitting under questioning that Miss Smith had "been in the doghouse" at home on a previous occasion. Miss Newman said Roberta had gone to a moving picture with her after telling her parents that she planned to go baby-sitting.

She said the last time she saw Miss Smith was at 1:30 p.m. on the Thursday before her death.

DIDN'T COME BACK

"She came in with my coat, back from the cleaners. I didn't have a chance to talk to her. I said: 'I want to talk with you.' She said 'Just a minute, I'll be back.' She never came back."

Under questioning by Inspector Robert Owens, British Columbia Police, who has charge of the investigation, Miss Newman said Roberta had previously been in touch with her every day until Friday, September 1.

She did not get in touch with her at all on Friday.

Previously she had stayed at Miss Newman's home, sometimes for as long as three nights.

A bus-riding friend, Donna Webster, told of curt behavior by Miss Smith on September 1. This, she said, was not characteristic.

"She gets on the bus two stops before me, and she usually comes back to talk to me. This time she only came as far as the back door and turned her back on me."

STRANGE BEHAVIOR

[illegible] attract Roberta's attention twice. A man called out to Roberta and a woman pulled her sleeve to draw her attention. Finally she said, "Hi."

Miss Webster asked, "What's the matter with you," and Roberta replied, "Nothing." She got off the bus several stops before her usual place.

Lionel W. Gareau, a French-Canadian sailor from H.M.C.S. Ontario, said he saw Roberta on the bus to Thetis Lake on Friday evening. They were the only two passengers.

He asked her: "Are you all by your lonesome?"

She replied: "I prefer to stay that way." He left her and sat some distance off, in the back of the bus.

Miss Smith, who was then wearing slacks and carrying a parcel, got off the bus and went directly to Thetis Lake. Gareau also alighted and took another path.

While swimming, he saw her several times, some distance off. She was sitting on the grass opposite the pavilion, under a tree.

At 9 p.m. he had a "coke" in the pavilion. At that time he saw her again, still in the same place. Then he hitch-hiked home.

He returned to his ship. Subsequently, he told the jury, he and another sailor went absent without leave for 39 hours, and went to Nanaimo. After the inquest, Inspector Owens drove him to Nanoose to rejoin H.M.C.S. Ontario.

Roy Herbert, 1029 Tolmie, driver of the Thetis Lake bus, said the girl and a sailor were the only passengers on his bus on the Thetis Lake run. He was not able to identify Gareau as one of his passengers.

David Wilfred Kelly, another sailor, said he knew Roberta Smith personally and had been out with her last on July 1.

Inspector Owens asked whether Miss Smith would normally say that she preferred to be by herself.

"I don't believe that it was her type of character to say a thing like that," Kelly replied. "She wouldn't say it that way."

Geraldine Cedar, 367 Robinson Street, an employee of the pavilion cafe, said she saw Miss Smith playing the "juke box." She could not answer a juror's question about the kind of records that were played.

Inge Walter, 601 Trutch, who knew Miss Smith at school, said she saw her get off the bus at Thetis Lake at 6 p.m. A sailor also got off. They walked separate ways.

Chief Gunnery Instructor James G. Ross, R.C.N., told of finding the body while fishing with two other sailors. Chief Stoker William Thyne and Petty Officer Reginald Rimmer, all of H.M.C.S. Cayuga. He called police. His companions found the towel, clothes and magazine wrapped together on the shore. The articles lay on rocky ground, steep in places.

LITTLE MONEY

The body was floating almost vertically, with only hair showing, said Constable Douglas Callan. Constable Hugh T. Gaskill, who accompanied Constable Callan, said a black handbag was around Miss Smith's neck, half-floating. Its contents included papers, wallet, and a small amount of money.

No mention was made of Miss Smith's pay cheque, which she collected on Friday.

Thomas Davis, Provincial Laboratory's senior analyst, found no drugs, alcohol or poison in the dead girl's stomach. There was a great deal of fluid and undigested food, including fragments of pear or apple.

Fewer Students Entering U.B.C.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13 (CP) — First-day registrants at University of British Columbia slipped to less than half of peak year totals yesterday as 915 students filed through the line-ups.

In Autumn sessions from 1946 to 1948 as many as 2,000 persons — mostly veterans on Department of Veterans' Affairs' grants — jammed the queues to sign for courses. Only eight today were listed under D.V.A.

Registration in other than first-year courses began today.

Agency in B.C. In Blue Book Of Advertising

International recognition of advertising skill has again been given a British Columbia advertising agency in the 1949 Blue Book of Advertising, published by the American Newspaper Publishers' Association.

Included among the 50 most outstanding campaigns from North America in 1948 was one prepared by J. J. Gibbons Limited for Canadian Forest Products Limited, Pacific Veneer and Plywood Division, New Westminster. This campaign is given a large part of the credit for the outstanding market success scored by P. V. Weldtex striated plywood from coast to coast in Canada.

NEWSPAPERS SELECTED

"Ability to achieve fast, comprehensive market coverage is only one reason why daily newspapers were selected," states E. T. Wilson, who directed the campaign. "With a product distinguished in appearance from other plywoods, newspaper advertisements could illustrate as well as describe it. Distributor tie-ins could be effected for each market individually, and the campaign could be started with minimum production delays."

Listing in the Blue Book is a much-sought honor, as selections throughout North America are made on the basis of actual results from advertising from many thousands of entries. Only one other Canadian campaign, produced by an Eastern Canadian agency, appeared in the Blue Book.

United Signs Half From Toronto Club

Alan Gilchrist to Play With Victoria XI—Team Prepares for Opening Match Saturday

Still not certain whether or not [illegible] signed, and denies the report that Wallace Mulligan has signed with Nanaimo is rumour no Victoria United has been getting ready for its Coast Soccer League opener against Vancouver City at Royal Athletic Park on Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

Queried last night on the Mulligan report, Secretary Charlie Faulkner stated no [illegible] was what he had read in the papers. As late as last Thursday Mulligan had assured United that he would join with the Victoria entry. There has been no further word from the former Scottish star since then. Faulkner had nothing more definite to offer on Buster Cairns, the other Vancouver player rejected Victoria-bound.

McALLISTER BACK

However, United has apparently made one good addition. He is Tom McAllister, who played right half for Toronto Scots in last season. Gilchrist got in touch with United officials a few days ago and his signature was one of the first on a United form. Bill McAllister, star goalkeeper, has also signed with United, putting to rest rumors that he would not be playing for Nanaimo this season.

Also signed with United are Andy Lees and Al Sage, two veterans from the old Victoria club. Faulkner said the balance of the team would be signed within the next few days, but declined to divulge any further information. Tom Dance, Red McMillan and Joe Robbins, all boosters, are almost certain to be back.

CITY HAS 14 SIGNED

Vancouver City will be little changed from last season. Manager Jock Copland has at least 14 players [illegible] signed, according to Manager Malcolm Peacock. Affixed to Royal contracts are the signatures of John Dunn, John Wiseman, Alex and Peter Pirnie, two Scottish players; Tom Syme, Bill Thomas, Ken Routley, Norman and Ian Macdonald and Leo Laffy. Routley moves up to senior competition from Marpole and the Macdonalds are up from South Burnaby Legion.

All six clubs will see action over the week-end. In addition to the Victoria-Vancouver City match, there will be opening games between North Shore and Rovals and St. Andreas and Nanaimo.

Tonight, shareholders in Victoria United will meet at the Douglas Hotel to elect permanent officials.

Five C's Take Benefit Match From The Rest

One of the best matches of the [illegible] season was played at Beacon Hill Oval on Sunday when Five C's won from The Rest, 208-119. The match was a benefit for Dennis Nichols, Seattle player who was seriously injured in a match at Duncan. Matt Hughes, captain of the Seattle side made a special trip to line up with Five C's.

A [illegible] score would indicate how [illegible] was realized. After Scott and Corbyn led The Rest to a respectable total, the Churchmen were not long in showing they could surpass that total. Seven of [illegible] batsmen scored in double figures. George Page [illegible] 44 and [illegible] and Tom McKenzie each [illegible] up 39.

GOVERNMENT OF THE PROVINCE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Wilkinson Bridge Over Millstream Creek, Island Highway, Esquimalt District

CONSTRUCTION OF SUBSTRUCTURE

SEALED tenders, marked "Tender for Substructure Wilkinson Bridge," will be received by the Minister of Public Works, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, B.C., up to 12 o'clock noon, Monday, September 26th, 1949, for the above described work.

Tenders will be opened in public in the office of the Minister of Public Works at the above-mentioned time and date.

Plans, specifications, etc., may be obtained from the undersigned or from the Public Works Office, Court House, Vancouver, B.C., on deposit of the sum of ten dollars ($10); this deposit will be refunded upon the plans and specifications being returned within a period of one month of the receipt of tenders.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted bank cheque, made payable to the Minister of Public Works, for the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000); this deposit shall be forfeited if the tenderer declines to enter into contract, or if he fails to complete the work contracted for.

The cheques of unsuccessful tenderers will be returned to them when the contract has been awarded.

Tenders must be made out on the forms supplied and enclosed in the envelopes furnished.

Kersey Urges Ward Six To Attend Vital Meeting

Councillor William C. Kersey has called an open meeting of all ratepayers and residents of Ward Six for Friday at 8 p.m. in the Temperance Hall, East Saanich Road.

In a special pamphlet being circulated to residents, the councillor states: "I have resigned from the executive of Ward Six Ratepayers' Association in protest against the statements leveled at the efficiency of the Saanich Fire Department and the manner in which it was presented to the council by Association President Sydney Pickles."

Councillor Kersey points out that the population of Ward Six is growing rapidly and its area reperesents one-third of the total area of Saanich.

MEETING IMPERATIVE

"To retain its place in the affairs of the municipality it is imperative that all ratepayers and residents attend this meeting and express their views.

"If you don't attend this meeting your absence will be taken that you endorse the policy of the majority findings and recommendations on problems such as secession, fire protection, and other matters concerning the welfare of Ward Six that the meeting may pass or approve.

"It is your duty to attend this meeting and present your ideas with others, and to arrive at a decision on a policy that will serve Ward Six efficiently and in the best interests of the ratepayers of the whole ward," declares Councillor Kersey in the printed pamphlet.

Trahsportation for residents of the Brentwood area can be obtained by phoning 56 K and in the Saanichton area, 24 K.

Grand Old Man of Art, W. P. Weston Honored

Tribute to a grand old man of the art world, W. P. Weston, A.R.C.A., was paid last night at the Greater Victoria Art Centre by Dr. John M. Ewing, principal of Victoria College here.

Opening an exhibition of the veteran artist's paintings at the Art Centre's gallery, 823 Broughton Street, Dr. Ewing said that he had known the famous British Columbia painter for a great many years.

"He is a forthright painter," Dr. Ewing stated. "There is nothing over-delicate about his work."

Originally from London, England, the artist came to British Columbia 40 years ago, Dr. Ewing related.

INTERNATIONALLY-KNOWN

"Mr. Weston has been painting all those years and has had shows in art galleries all over the continent," he said.

"He has also traveled extensively for the University of British Columbia's extension department."

The exhibition precedes Mr. Weston's course on "Approach to Art," which will be one of the non-credit classes at Victoria College's forthcoming evening division.

Dr. Ewing also praised the leadership of Dr. Harry Hickman, Art Centre prexy.

"Dr. Hickman has never failed at any task he has set himself," the speaker stated.

The Victoria College principal also expressed a hope that the Art Centre's present modest gallery would soon be exchanged "for something better."

Shifting Logs Crush Worker

CAMPBELL RIVER, Sept. 13.—A verdict of accidental death was returned by a coroner's jury under Dr. N. B. Hall in the case of Daniel H. Dowling, 50, who died in Lourdes Hospital from severe chest injuries last Saturday. Dowling was crushed between two logs at Bailey Logging Co. operations near Seaford on Cortes Island.

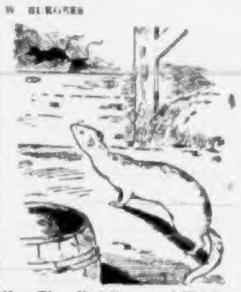
BILLY MINK HAS GOOD HUNTING

Billy Mink loves to hunt. He is one of the best hunters among the little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows. Not even Reddy Fox is a better hunter than Billy Mink. In the first place, Billy has a wonderful nose. He can follow the scent of a mouse quite as well as can Reddy Fox. Then, too, Billy possesses sharp ears.

The instant Billy caught the scent of Robber the Rat at the edge of the hole in the floor of that barn he forgot all about the hens over in the henhouse. He popped up through the hole onto the barn floor and his nose found the scent of Robber the Rat stronger than ever. Billy began to follow it just as Bowser the Hound follows the scent of Reddy Fox. It led straight over to a grain bin.

Just as Billy reached one end of the grain bin a big grey rat with two others at his heels scrambled out of the grain bin, and, with squeaks of fright, scampered away. How they had known of his coming Billy didn't know. Probably they had smelled him, for Billy has quite a strong scent of his own. Anyway, they had discovered his presence.

With a bound Billy was after them. Almost at once the three rats separated. Billy didn't hesitate. He followed the largest one. He followed him with his nose. That was all he needed to guide him.



How They Had Known of His Coming Billy Didn't Know

Now that rat knew every nook and corner and every hiding place in that big barn. Also he knew that there was no place big enough for him to get into which Milly Mink could not get into, and fear gave speed to his legs. Behind and under boxes, over grain bins, squeezing through narrow places, and racing across open spaces, the rat ran with Billy behind him. At last he was cornered.

Instantly that rat changed completely. He whirled about and faced Billy Mink, showing savage teeth. He was big and strong, and he intended to fight. For just an instant Billy Mink stopped. Now a rat is quick, but Billy Mink is quicker. That rat was no coward. He fought, and he fought hard, but he fought in vain. He could not get those wicked-looking teeth of his into Billy. In less time that it takes to tell it, the fight was over, and Billy Mink had his dinner.

Now Billy knew all about Robber Rat and his relatives. He knew that they were outcasts among all the little people of the Green Meadows and the Green Forest. He knew not a single thing could be said in their favor. He knew that the Great World would be a better place for everybody if there were no brown rats in it.

"There is good hunting here," muttered Billy, as he turned to go back to his new home under the woodpile. "As long as there is such good hunting here in this barn, I'll keep away from the henhouse." Then he went home and curled up for a nap.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 14

Today's Quotation: "When you get to fortyish, try to love lightly, in self-defence."—George Jessel.

Wednesday for Everyone—Devote the morning to routine and ordinary matters; allow for possible delays. Afternoon and evening: promote material and practical interests; buy, sell, make gains.

Look for your birthdate and birth-sign below:

March 21 to April 19 (Aries)—Pick up momentum; make progress this afternoon to make up for morning slowdowns or setbacks.

April 20 to May 20 (Taurus)—Evening: promote monetary, job, commercial interests. Morning: be doing instead of worrying.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Morning: be impersonal; make no important moves, changes. Evening: activiate pet aspirations or ventures.

June 21 to July 22 (Cancer)—Morning: clear your slate of matters that need doing. Evening: be receptive to advice, concepts of others.

July 23 to August 22 (Leo)—Curtail your social, progressive program till afternoon. Talk matters over with cronies and move ahead then.

August 23 to September 22 (Virgo)—Make commercial and monetary progress by evening. Dispel defeatist moods this morning.

September 23 to October 22 (Libra)—Banish early morning anxieties or whims. Bestir yourself to get things humming by evening.

October 23 to November 21 (Scorpio)—Speed up financial transactions and your quest for aid or solution to dilemmas this afternoon and evening.

November 22 to December 21 (Sagitarius)—Afternoon and evening: view matters from another's vantage point. Secure benefits indirectly.

December 22 to January 19 (Capricorn)—Recover territory lost by early morning fatigue or discomfort. Grasp an advantage by the afternoon's end.

January 20 to February 18 (Aquarius)—Take no chances in morning; gain wide latitude by afternoon and evening; enjoy pastimes and amusements.

February 19 to March 20 (Pisces)—Tidy up lose ends in morning. Evening: give top place on your agenda to domestic or office matters.

Planning Ahead—Good for sociability, entertaining, etc.: September 14, 16, 19, 20, 21, 24, 25, 26, 27; evening of 28, 30; October 1 and 3; evening of 13; afternoon of 15.

Court Studies Man's Choice

TIMMINS, Ont., Sept. 13 (CP).—Farmer Rene Leduc testified today he had to chose August 16 between putting out a brush fire and taking his first look at his ninth child.

He chose the baby and is now up in court charged with refusing to obey the order of the Fire Prevention Officer.

"That fire cost the department $1,500 when it got away," Forest Protection Supervisor O. K. Welsh testified.

Baby and fire put Magistrate S. Atkinson in a quandary. He adjourned the case for a week for decision.

Baby Clinic Response Good

Response to the well-baby clinic established Monday at the Royal Jubilee Hospital was more than satisfactory, according to Dr. J. L. Gayton, medical health officer for Victoria and Esquimalt.

Dr. Gayton said the response was a great deal more than had been expected, but that the steady stream of mothers and babies was looked after competently.

The clinic was established through the co-operation of the management of the hospital for the purpose of weighing, inoculating babies and giving mothers advice on feeding and other matters.

Russia Scores Veto Record

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Sept. 13 (AP).—Russia today cast seven big-power vetoes within an hour and slapped down again the hopes of seven countries for United Nations membership.

The record veto score for one day made a grand total of 38 vetoes for the Soviet Union since the Security Council first met in 1946.

The Republic of Ireland, Portugal, Hashemite Jordan, Italy, Austria, Finland and Ceylon were blackballed by the Soviet delegate, Seymon K. Tsarapkin.

Russians Free Two U.S. Men

BERLIN, Sept. 13 (AP).—Major Victor Milner, Jr., 30, and his father, 56, were released tonight by the Russians after more than 72 hours in captivity, United States authorities announced.

Milner and his father, both of Hollywood, had left Frankfurt, Saturday, on an automobile trip to Berlin and disappeared. Tonight they were turned over to a constabulary party on the American-Russian zone border near Hov, Bavaria, authorities at the United States check point at Cobourg disclosed.

Remanded, Out on Bail For Alleged Threatening

Jack M. Lewers, 1289 Vista Heights, was charged in city police court yesterday with unlawfully threatening his wife, Margaret Elizabeth, by saying in effect, "I am going to kill you and blow your brains out."

Lewers was arrested on a warrant Monday night and later released on $2,000 bail.

W. H. M. Haldane, Lewers' lawyer, was granted his request for a remand to September 19. Plea was reserved.

FRAUD CHARGE

A. Williams, who gave his address as Montreal, was charged with fraudulently obtaining lodgings from the Empress Hotel between August 21 and 25 in the sum of $16.

Williams first pleaded not guilty to the charge, was returned to the cell block, but then told police officials he wanted to plead guilty. Brought back to court, he pleaded guilty but then, after explaining certain circumstances, decided to plead not guilty again. He was remanded to this morning for trial. Magistrate H. C. Hall set $1,000 bail after Claude L. Harrison said the accused had been using false names.

A hotel accountant told the magistrate that a check-up revealed that Williams' Montreal address didn't exist.

ESQUIMALT COURT

Arthur Jarrington, 910 Dunsmuir Street, was fined $35 or in default ten days in jail at a special sitting of Esquimalt police court after pleading guilty Monday to a charge of theft of 66 feet of copper piping valued at $20.

Dinner at Antoine's

CHAPTER XIII

Orson Foxworth had started his car mechanically and had almost reached St. Charles Avenue before he realized which direction he was taking or why. Then he decided to go further uptown and drive on, marking time, until he had regained his self-control. He swung into the slow traffic lane and drove along at minimum speed. . . .

Now that Foxworth thought the matter over, he realized that it had not taken very much time to tell Amelie off either; not when you reflected that she had long been his beloved and was still his betrothed; not when you remembered that he was due decidedly to her blame, only a short hour before; not when you considered that since then he had tried, with all the patience and wisdom he could summon, to clarify her bewilderment, to soothe her agitation, and to prove that he adored her. . . .

"So you think that I don't stop at anything—including the murder of a lovely and innocent girl—to get what I want? By the same token, I suppose you think I don't ever stop wanting anything I once coveted—including the possession of a beautiful and elusive woman? Well, you're wrong, Amelie, on both counts."

She tried to interrupt and expostulate. He cut her short.

"It's my turn to talk. And I don't think you'll find what I have to say hard to follow or tediously long this time. I can put that into just one sentence: you and I are through, Amelie."

"You and I are—oh, Orson, how can you say anything so cruel, even in jest? When you know my heart's broken, when I've turned to you for comfort and support in my terrible sorrow, when—"

"You wern't jesting, were you? when you accused me of murder? And it isn't exactly my idea of a kind thing to say. If we're talking cruelly to each other, it isn't I who started it."

"If you had the slightest compassion for a bereaved mother—if you had the remotest inkling of what it means to be a gentleman—"

"You don't usually think of murderers as especially compassionate, do you?"

"Oh, Orson, I want you! I love you with all my heart and soul, I—"

"You haven't any heart and soul. Or much of any mind either. You've got a beautiful face and a beautiful body and that's about all. It isn't enough, Amelie. At least, it might be enough for a mistress. But it isn't enough for a wife."

PARK YOUR CARCASS

THERE'S NOT MUCH DIFFERENCE in Vancouver I've found, except MORE bodies . . . being pushed around. Everyone seems in a bigger fuss, yet this seething mass is a lot like us. Bodies over there . . . get outa bed, then race down town . . . to get ahead. They gotta go farther . . . than we do here, so mostly their bodies . . . roar in high gear. Hub cap to hub cap from delta & ridge, & thousands pay tolls on the Lion's Gate Bridge. These bodies are parked at a chromium desk, or at other tasks . . . just as grotesque. At about 10:30 all sneak out to hava, the nearest cup of luke-warm java. This keeps them floating like a pontoon, until they collapse . . . for munch . . . at noon. When thousands of bodies from buildings spout, & flesh & bones . . . fight it out. Ham-on-rye . . . dainty bodies demand, others don't care . . . simply expand. Vast numbers I noticed in courses between, take deep drags . . . of nicotine. In fact you could say, without a joke, all bodies volcanos . . . belching smoke. Some raised their skulls . . . & blew it high, others just turned . . . & puffed in your eye. The Revlon butts . . . the ladies crushed, the males KEPT theirs . . . as on they rushed. Hurling themselves . . . sooner or later, into a factory . . . or elevator. When again these creatures . . . known as mankind, twisted their bodies . . . to the grind. You, too, could dash all over our City, but a needless waste & rather a pity, 'Cause when a body needs some slumber, there's just ONE place . . . the brothers HUMBER. About 4 o'clock . . . more coffee is drunk, & often some pie . . . a hefty chunk. Then the wild dash . . . back home to get, to the little blonde . . . or the brunette. She, too, has had . . . quite a day, had been to the dentist . . . got an inlay. She had beautiful skin, was sound underneath, a solid body with rather soft teeth. They sat in the nook . . . of this rural home, & rattle around on chairs of chrome. They had spare ribs & gravy . . . & bar-b-q sauce, "let's do a movie," said his boss. They slithered the dishes, out they ran, the Tide came in . . . left in the pan. They just caught the feature . . . by the neck, & she relaxed . . . with Gregory Peck. Kicked off her shoes . . . rubbed her feet, while he beside her . . . went to sleep. Then back in their stucco . . . bodies both dead, she rinsed the dishes . . . he flopped in bed. Laid the bodies horizontally . . . strength to redeem, only to be pitched . . . in ANOTHER dream. Being chased this time . . . all over the place, by a guy trying to swipe . . . his parking place. Other bodies, too . . . all over town, no longer vertical . . . but sprawling down. Thrashing about . . . some shut-eye to borrow, getting reconditioned . . . for the fight tomorrow. You, too, can see what it's all about, as the SIMPLICITY washer thrashes out.

Yes thrashes the dirt outa your wash, just $134.50—yes it is . . . by gash. It's 12-year guarantee . . . sold it to us, so plunk on your lid . . . & jump on the bus. So I'm glad I'm back home on our Island shore, even tho our harbor . . . IS infer-ior. And we've NO Grouse Mountain or Stanley Park, WE'VE hanging baskets . . . & a place to park. And what do I care, 'een tho they say, they found a dead man . . . on the Causeway. Who'd leisurely laid his body there, 3 days before . . . they found him there. It ISN'T true, he just wanted to stay, when someone tried to take him away. He's just resting there, 'neath the Lizabeth Ardens, he so loves the smell of THE CITY OF GARDENS.

4 N.T. (!)	Pass	5 ♥	Pass
6 ♣ (!)	Pass	Pass	Pass

South's opening bid was, of course, correct, but all of his other bids were too aggressive. He was not strong enough even for the first jump to three diamonds; having taken that action, he certainly might have calmed down on subsequent rounds!

West opened the heart six. The ace won, and South, after long thought, decided to establish his diamond suit before doing anything else. He cashed the ace and king and ruffed a third round with the spade nine. East over-ruffed and laid down the heart king. South ruffed, and cashed just enough trumps to draw East's cards in the suit, then led the club ten for the finesse that was so vital at this stage. West, who still had his original club holding, was not so foolish as to cover the ten-spot, and when South immediately took another finesse in the suit, its success did him little good. He could discard one diamond on the club ace, but this left him a trick short of his goal.

South probably never realized how close he was to complete success in this deal! After the club ten held the trick, all he had to do was to lay down his last trump! That play would have forced West to give up a club, reducing his king to helplessness, or to discard the high diamond, in which case South of course could cash his remaining diamonds.

Suggests All Taxis Pay Fees

Suggestion that all taxis operating in Esquimalt be forced to pay a trades licence was made by Councillor J. A. Ellis at a meeting Monday night.

The councillor felt that it was unfair for Esquimalt cabs to have to pay a trades licence when taxis from other municipalities could operate throughout Esquimalt without paying a fee.

Council referred the suggestion to the municipal solicitor without much discussion.

TO IMPROVE SIDEWALK

About 500 feet of wooden sidewalk along Esquimalt Road between Macaulay Street and Lock's Meat Market, will be made safe for the Winter months, council ruled. It was decided to postpone a major improvement until a complete job of rebuilding the road at this bend is considered.

"To attempt a major job this season is almost impossible," declared E. Fulcher, superintendent of works. "The whole project should be considered as major work for next year. From Macaulay Street to Lampson Street is the worst danger spot in Esquimalt and the traffic is very heavy and increasing daily."

TO LOCATE OWNER

A marooned boat on Saxe Point beach drew strong criticism from the council which decided to find the owner and endeavor to have the dismantled vessel removed.

Councillor Fred Higgins, chairman of the parks committee, termed the boat "a useless old hulk" and a "nuisance" to swimmers and boaters.

Yarns of Sea Club Feature

Salty yarns about faraway places in the days of sail and present day steam was the highlight of the opening meeting of the season of the Thermopylae Club of Victoria, held in the Naval Veterans Branch of the Canadian Legion Monday night.

Fifteen seafaring men, all members of the club, relaxed over cigars and pipes and swapped yarns about their experiences on the high seas—stories both humorous and educational.

Th speakers included William Gregory, who is a younger member of Trinity House, which is the highest honor that can be bestowed on the mercantile marine, C. F. Gray, J. B. White, and W. G. Nettleship.

It was decided to hold meetings on the second Monday of each month.

HONEY GROUP TO MEET

The British Columbia Honey Producers' Association, Vancouver Island Division, will hold a meeting at Prince Robert House at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, it was announced yesterday.

Bookbinding dates back to the Assyrians and Babylonians who protected their clay records with an outer covering, also made of clay.

Naval Survey Vessel Completes Arctic Trip

Marine News

H.M.C.S. Cedarwood, experimental vessel of the Pacific Naval Laboratory of Esquimalt, returned to the local naval base yesterday morning to complete a trip that started June 29, covered approximately 10,000 miles, and took the vessel to a point as close to the North Pole as any vessel has ever been.

Objective of the trip was to make extensive oceanographic surveys in northern latitudes, and Lieut.-Cmdr. J. P. Wolfenden, R.C.N. (R) — commanding officer of the ship — in an interview yesterday said "all phases of the journey were very successful."

It was learned that after a one-month stay at Esquimalt, during which time the Cedarwood will undergo repairs and general overhaul, she will start another oceanographic survey trip in waters off the coast of British Columbia. The next trip will probably last about a month.

The 27 officers and men returned to this city with a healthy regard for Victoria's favorable climate and warm temperatures, and a varied collection of souvenirs picked up at Eskimo settlements at which the vessel called. Among the articles gained by trade by the Cedarwood men were Eskimo slippers, reindeer jackets, walrus tusks and other such items.

Lieut.-Cmdr. Wolfenden said his vessel operated in conjunction with ships of the United States Navy at certain phases of the operation. United States vessels participating were a surface ship, and the submarine U.S.S. Baya — also described as a seagoing laboratory.

During the northern trip the Cedarwood's men were paid in United States funds. The Eskimos refused to accept Canadian money.

Top scientist of the Canadian personnel in the exercise was Dr. John P. Tully, of the Pacific Oceanographic Group. He left the ship at Nanaimo on its return to this base.

Lieut.-Cmdr. Wolfenden had a "no comment" response when reporters asked how close his vessel had been to Russian territory.

Immediately after docking at her Esquimalt jetty at 10:30 a.m. yesterday, Cedarwood hoisted a seldom-seen flag up her main forward mast. It featured the emblem of a polar bear standing on an ice floe, with a scarlet background.

Among "discoveries" made by the scientists was the fact that existing charts of certain parts of northern seas are "most inaccurate." New information gathered along these lines will be made available for the benefit of Canadian and American authorities.

Lieut.-Cmdr. Wolfenden said the Cedarwood was a great ship that could stand practically any kind of weather. "And we sure got every kind . . . everything was thrown at us." She rolled considerably, and in early stages of the trip most of her men suffered seasickness, "but it wasn't long before they got their sea legs."

Pacific Research Ship Returns to Base After Northern Cruise

H.M.C.S. Cedarwood, floating experimental ship attached to the Pacific Naval Research Laboratory, Esquimalt, is seen here as she nosed her way into the local naval base to complete a 10,000-mile trip into northern waters. A number of relatives and friends of ship's company were on hand to welcome the vessel.

Officers and men of the Cedarwood returned with a wide variety of souvenirs from the northland. Above Lieut.-Cmdr. J. P. Wolfenden, commanding officer of ship, is seen wearing reindeer parka which he brought home. He is reasonably certain his wife, pictured with him, will be wearing the jacket more than he does.

Fear for B.C. Fishing

British Columbia fishermen are anything but happy about a report received in this area recently to the effect the Japanese fishing industry is rapidly being restored through assistance from United States relief and rehabilitation funds—and fish production for this year in Japan is expected to reach about seven billion pounds, to again put Japan far ahead of other fish-producing nations.

This information is included in a current report from the United States Fish and Wildlife Service.

EXCEED OTHER NATIONS

Japan's requirements for fishermen, fishing boats and adequate supplies of fishing materials such as nets, rope and fuel oil, far exceed those of other nations.

It has been estimated that 1949 production of fish in Japan will require about 1,250,000 fishermen operating more than 450,000 boats and a tremendous amount of raw materials for fishing equipment. Present annual requirements for maintaining fishing gear and operating fishing vessels, it is resorted, amounts to approximately 39,000,000 pounds of manila fibres, 26,000,000 pounds of cotton and 3,500,000 barrels of petroleum.

An extensive boat-building program and repatriation of fishermen—made possible by United States funds—rapidly made up for losses suffered by the Japanese during the recent war.

Will Command Micmac

Lieut.-Cmdr. Frederick C. Frewer, R.C.N., 29, of Toronto, for the past two years executive officer of the Canadian Services College, Royal Roads, has been appointed Commanding Officer of the Tribal Class destroyer, H.M.C.S. Micmac, it was announced today by Naval Headquarters.

With her sister ship Huron and Cayuga, and the Fleet Class destroyer Sioux, the Micmac has been in reserve while undergoing re-armament. She will be commissioned on September 15 and will replace the destroyer Nootka as an active unit of the R.C.N.'s East Coast fleet. The Nootka has been placed in reserve for armament conversion.

OTHER OFFICERS

Among other officers appointed to the Micmac to date are Lt. David L. MacKnight, of London, Ont., executive officer; Lt. Thomas J. Bailey, of St. Vital, Man.; Lt. (E) J. W. Brooking, Toronto and Dartmouth, N.S., engineer officer; Lt. (L) C. W. Ross, Saint John, N.B., electrical officer; Lt. John Husher, London, Ont.; Lt. (S) W. G. Powell, Langley Prairie, B.C., and Dartmouth, N.S., supply officer; Ord. Lt. G. D. Spergel, Toronto and Halifax, and Sub.-Lt. B. J. Mackay, Kitchener, Ont.; Sub-Lt. John D. McRuer, Toronto; Sub.-Lt. Robert N. Johnstone, of Toronto; Sub.-Lt. Alexander C. Titus, of Toronto, and Sub.-Lt. Keith D. Lewis, of Ottawa.

A native of Toronto, Lt.-Cmdr. Frewer entered the Royal Canadian Navy as a cadet in August, 1937. He took early training overseas in ships and establishments of the Royal Navy, including the battleship Royal Sovereign and cruisers Vindictive and Berwick before joining the destroyer H.M.C.S. St. Laurent in October, 1940.

He served in this ship on convoy duty in the Western approaches to the British Isles and on the North Atlantic for three years, the last two as executive officer, then was appointed ashore for duty with the training commander on the staff of Capt. (D) Halifax. In August, 1944, he went to the then R.C.N. College, H.M.C.S. Royal Roads, where he served for a year.

Lt.-Cmdr. Frewer was in command of the destroyer H.M.C.S. Saskatchewan from August, 1945, until she was paid off three months later. Then, after a short period in headquarters, he joined the cruiser H.M.C.S. Uganda. He was appointed to H.M.C.S. Royal Roads for the second time in September, 1947, and became executive officer of the college a month later.

FREIGHTER BREAKS UP

Heavy waves have broken in two the Greek freighter, Ioannis G. Kulukundis, grounded a month ago near Lompoc, Calif., in waters known as the graveyard of the Pacific.

Recently Fred Riley, scrap steel dealer, purchased the ship and planned an attempt to salvage her 10,000 tons of Canadian wheat. It is not known what effect the break-up will make in salvage plans.

TO HONOR COMRADES

In Lunenburg, Sunday, the men of Nova Scotia's deepsea fishing fleet will pause to honor the memory of their comrades who sailed to the banks—never to return.

It's been an annual service since 1926 when a howling August gale whipped up the Atlantic, wrecked two Lunenburg bankers and took with them their entire crews.

And it seems only fitting that the service should be held during September, the second month of the August-September gale and hurricane season in the North Atlantic.

Already this month the storms have taken their toll.

Seven people were drowned when a Caribbean-brewed hurricane sent flood tides pouring over farm lands in the Barbados. Several ships were dashed ashore and wrecked.

Further north, more distress calls were heard as small ships were battered by mountainous waves.

Worst loss came when the 349-ton coastal steamer Bayfield was wrecked last Friday off Southwestern Newfoundland. Luckily, her crew escaped.

TO TAKE APPLICATIONS

Tomorrow the Navy will begin receiving this year's applications from students of Victoria College wishing to become officer cadets in the college's University Naval Training Division.

During the college commencement assembly this morning, Cmdr. J. C. Littler, reserve training commander at the Esquimalt naval base, will give a comprehensive address on organization, and work of the U.N.T.D.

This afternoon a Chief Petty Officer will be at the college to start accepting applications.

The Victoria College U.N.T.D. unit is under the command of Lieut.-Cmdr. W. L. Ostler, R.C.N. (R), and is a tender to Victoria's naval reserve division H.M.C.S. Malahat.

Delta Delegates Level Charges at Convention

QUALICUM BEACH, Sept. 13.—Argument flew thick and fast at the British Columbia School Trustees' Association convention here on Tuesday as Delta delegates accused the British Columbia Teachers' Federation of "blacklisting."

Teacher representatives denied the charges, and convention members jumped into the fray on both sides.

Delta received the convention's endorsation on a resolution asking amendment of the manual school law to require the Teachers' Federation to give specific causes when a member was suspended or expelled.

Dougald Morrison and W. Tamboline charged the federation had used this power to dissuade teachers from taking positions at Ladner after three teachers had been dismissed.

A proposal that British Columbia adopt the 300-year-old English system of taxing on rental value of property, and collecting from the occupant rather than the owner, was placed before the convention by P. R. Leighton, Duncan.

He made his proposal when trustees tabled a mid-Island branch resolution asking that school taxes be removed entirely from land and improvements to permit the executive to continue negotiations on school finance with the Union of British Columbia Municipalities and British Columbia Teachers' Federation.

Issues Appeal For Langford

LANGFORD, Sept. 13. — Fire Chief Rodney Bayles of the Langford Volunteer Fire Department issued an appeal to residents of the district to refrain from calling the Langford telephone office immediately after the sounding of the fire siren. He explained that calls to inquire about the location of fires interfered seriously with the use of lines by the fire department.

Autumn Frost At Parksville

PARKSVILLE, Sept. 13. — Following an unusually warm weekend for September when the beaches were almost as crowded as during the middle of Summer, a sharp frost struck some parts of Parksville district early Monday morning. No damage was suffered by gardens at sea level, but reports from some residents of the higher levels indicated that leafy vegetables had been affected.

Leaves Family

NANAIMO, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Anna Irving Wardle, 61, a well-known resident of Chase River district, died in hospital here on Tuesday. She was born in Cumberland, England, and had lived in Canada 45 years. She is survived by her widower, Roland; three sons, George, Jack and Edward; two daughters, Mrs. George Higgs and Mrs. James Rowan, all of Victoria; one brother, Jack Harris, and two sisters, Mrs. A. J. Paull and Mrs. F. W. Ward, all of Vancouver. The Westwood Hirst Chapel is in charge of funeral arrangements.

Mass Thursday

NANAIMO, Sept. 13.—Mass will be celebrated in St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church at 9 a.m. Thursday for the late Mrs. Mary Punka, 74, a resident of Cedar district for the past 35 years, who died on Tuesday.

She was born in Poland, and is survived by her widower, Jacob, and a son and daughter. Prayers will be said in the Westwood Hirst Chapel Wednesday evening.

Weather Forecasts

East Coast of Vancouver Island—Overcast with occasional light rain. Winds light, except southeast 15 m.p.h. in Georgia Strait. Little change in temperature.

Cost of New City Hall For Nanaimo $200,250

NANAIMO, Sept. 13.—The city council gave second reading to two important by-laws, to be forwarded immediately to the Minister of Municipal Affairs for approval. They will later be placed before city ratepayers.

One was the city hall supplementary fund by-law, designed to raise $75,000 more required for the building of a new city hall at an estimated cost of $200,250, which includes furnishings, landscaping and grounds. Funds on hand from a previous by-law, with interest, total $116,399. The city will float debentures for the required $75,000, dated to 1969, at 3½ per cent interest.

Mayor George Muir stated the money could be borrowed without any increase in the mill rate, and that prices had soared after ratepayers first passed a by-law authorizing $107,000 spent on the building of the city hall. The new hall will serve a population of 30,000 persons, the mayor explained.

The second by-law is designed to subdivide and sell for residential purposes 6,000 square feet of city-owned land at Comox Road and Pine and Kerr Streets. Conditions attached to the agreements will eliminate speculators. The money will be used for installing sewers and water mains, with the balance to go to development of a new 40-acre cemetery.

The council will give consideration to appointment of a part-time stenographer for police court work, and appointment of an additional police constable asked for in a police report. The sum of $300 will be granted toward expenses of the recent international cruiser race finish here.

Baby has Unusual Role

HILLIERS, Sept. 13.—A six-weeks-old baby, tiny Gabriel Archangelovich I, has been cast in a strange role at this Vancouver Island Doukhobor colony.

Little Gabriel, the first baby born at this communal-style colony, has been dedicated to a life of "service to God and humanity."

When his mother, Mrs. Florence Berikoff, dedicated the child at a religious ceremony here, she severed the final strand of private ownership and turned her baby over to the community. Gabriel is the responsibility of the 180 persons who make up the unique colony.

Gabriel's name will be entered in the "White Book" into which will go the names of those who "renounce themselves and private family ties to become eligible for membership in the universal family of whom the head is Christ and the Father in Heaven."

Ancient Egyptians used dice for gambling as early as 1600, B.C.

By-Law Fails At Courtenay

COURTENAY, Sept. 13.—Property owners of Courtenay School District, No. 71, rejected the proposed $1,268,912 school construction by-law by 1,480 to 565 votes. School trustees purchased a $15,000 building site from M. L. Sugrue in anticipation that the by-law would be passed and money would be borrowed to erect a consolidated high school.
